O'Neill Outlines $1.25 Billion Road-Building Program

BECK INVOKES FIFTH AMENDMENT

Total of 475 Miles in New Highway Set

Governor's Proposal Spreads Construction Over 2½-Year Period

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill today outlined plans for a 1¼ billion dollar program for road construction and land acquisition for 2½ years.

The program embraces 475 miles of new highway construction between Jan. 1, 1957, and July 1, 1959.

"That figure represents what we are prepared to put under contract," the governor told a news conference. He said the total included 60 miles of thoroughfares inside major cities.

Traces Network

The governor traced a four-lane divided highway network linking major Ohio cities. The longest stretch will run between Columbus and the Ohio Turnpike, 120 miles. The cost is estimated at 144 million dollars. A 12-mile stretch of turnpike would be used to cross the Cuyahoga River.

The four-lane route would extend from the turnpike at a point south of Cleveland to Conneaut, a distance of 90 miles. The cost would be about 90 million dollars.

The program will provide a four-lane highway between Cincinnati and Dayton by relocating U. S. 25. The project calls for 34 miles of construction at a cost of 38 million dollars. The route would run from north of Cincinnati to Moraine City.

Gaps Will Be Closed

Two gaps will be closed to provide a four-lane highway between Dayton and Toledo on U. S. 25. The gaps to be bridged with four-lane routes are between Piqua and Sidney, 12 miles, at a cost of nearly 11½ million dollars, and between North Baltimore and Cygnet, 5 miles, at about 5 million dollars.

A stretch between Bluffton and Findlay will be improved in the next biennium.

Improvements on U.S. 40 include these projects:

From the intersection of relocated U.S. 40 and Ohio 13 in Licking County east to Linnville, 5 miles, cost 5 million dollars.

U.S. 40 section of the Zanesville Expressway, bypassing the famed "Y" bridge in Zanesville, 2.2 miles, 7.8 million dollars.

East of St. Clairsville to Ohio 214, 1.9 miles, 3.4 million dollars.

Through Bridgeport with a bridge across the west channel of the Ohio river, .8 mile, 4.1 million dollars.

The big program includes construction in eight major cities, costing nearly 253 million dollars.

CLEARING THE WAY FOR SNOWBOUND AUTOS. A huge snowplow, followed by a smaller one, is clearing Highway 287, about 15 miles southeast of Amarillo, Tex., followed by a string of autos which was stranded along the road as high winds whipped blizzard snow into huge drifts in the Texas Panhandle.

Death Toll Hits 33 In Blizzard Areas

By The Associated Press

The Great Plains area still was digging out of snow drifts as high as housetops today.

Deaths in the weekend blizzard rose to at least 33, spread over nine states.

Texas 7, Illinois 7, Oklahoma 5, Kansas 4, Nebraska 3, Indiana 3, Missouri 2, New Mexico 1 and Iowa 1.

Sixteen of the deaths were attributed to traffic accidents in which the storm was a factor. The other 17 included seven dead of exposure, six who were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in stalled cars and four who died of heart attacks from exertion as they tried to shovel themselves out or struggle through the snow to shelter.

Communications and travel on roads and rail lines still were snarled.

Rescue operations began Monday as skies cleared behind the storm, which veered northeastward toward the Great Lakes, partially spent but still potent.

Face Huge Task

A huge task faced rescuers.

Hundreds of small communities across the desolate plains had been isolated since Saturday.

Despite their own plight, inhabitants of the area threw open their doors to refugees of the storm. Several towns were crowded with them. Farm homes welcomed motorists seeking safety.

Snowbound cars by the hundreds were counted from the air Monday over the six-state high plains area — eastern New Mexico and Colorado, the Panhandles of Texas and Oklahoma, western Kansas and Nebraska.

Fear More Dead

Rescuers believed more dead would be uncovered as the heavy snow thawed.

Food and supplies were dropped from the air and carried to disaster victims. Volunteer Red Cross workers in the Texas Panhandle used snowshoes and skis. Military helicopters picked up the frail and the needy and flew them to the nearest town or hospital.

School buses removed approximately 440 passengers from two cross-country streamliners stuck in the snow in western Kansas.

Taken into Meade, Kan., were 225 passengers of the Rock Island's eastbound Golden State Limited. They were housed in a high school gymnasium and given

Labor, Farmer Opposed

Council Visitors Attack Proposal for Fast Time

A proposal to adopt Daylight Saving Time in Marion this summer providing it goes into effect in Columbus drew forth considerable opposition at the City Council meeting Monday night in City Hall.

Council gave a first reading to an ordinance to establish "fast" time in Marion from May 12 to Aug. 31.

A MOTION BY James Jenkins, Second Ward, to dispense with the second and third readings and act on the issue at last night's meeting failed to get a second and was lost.

Speaking against the proposal were representatives of the Marion Central Labor Union, a farmer and another Marion resident.

The farmer opposing the proposal was Daily Hite of near Marion. He said the "fast" time would work a hardship on farmers and others and said both the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and the Marion County Farm Bureau are opposed to it.

He said further he didn't feel council had a right to establish it without a vote of the electors. He said that in his opinion Daylight Saving Time is a violation of "God's laws."

C. N. Briggs of 589 Girard Ave. said the issue was debated once before several years ago in Marion and that he had determined at that time that state law doesn't permit Marion to change the time, that Eastern Standard Time is the only legal time in Ohio. He added that other cities in the state which do have fast time may have charter forms of government which permit them to adopt it.

In answer to a question from Council President Don Quaintance, City Solicitor Riley Hall assured council that it could adopt fast time for Marion if it so desired.

E. E. CRIZER of 800 Merkle Ave. representing the Central Labor Union, said the organization is opposed to the proposal. "We can see no real material good that can come from it," he said. He also said that any such proposal should be put up for a vote of the people.

City Council Okays Three New Sewers

Resolutions Declare Work on Silver, Pearl And Davids Required

Three additional sanitary sewer improvements proposed in a city sewer survey were declared necessary by action of Marion City Council at its regular meeting Monday night in City Hall.

Resolutions of necessity for the three projects were adopted by unanimous vote after only brief discussion and elimination of one section from each of the three resolutions objected to by some of the councilmen.

Would Complete Phase 1

The three projects are:

Reconstruction of the Silver St. sewer; a Davids St. relief sewer, and a Pearl St. relief sewer.

Their construction would complete Phase I of a three phase sanitary sewer improvement program proposed in the survey report prepared by Floyd G. Browne and Associates, consulting engineers.

Cost of the projects would be paid from a $1,135,000 bond issue previously authorized by council. The bonds are to be retired by income from the city's sewer service charge.

In other action relating to sewer improvements, council adopted an ordinance providing that a sanitary engineer and two sewer inspectors will be paid from project funds (provided by the bond issue money) for the Indiana Ave. and Forest Lawn Blvd. projects, construction of which started Monday.

Objects to Section

In the discussion on the resolutions of necessity, Emmett Osterholt, Sixth Ward, objected to a section that authorized Browne and Associates to prepare plans and specifications for the three additional improvements.

He said he had favored creation of the sanitary engineer position on the grounds that he could design and draw up plans and specifications for such improvements without the need of employing outside engineers. Inclusion of this section "puts us right back where we were when I requested a study on the advisability of building up the

Girl's Father Killed in Fight With Intruder

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said a 37-year-old Columbus man was killed early today as he tried to protect his daughter, 12, from an intruder in their apartment.

The father, Walter Blankenship, was pronounced dead at Grant Hospital. Police said the intruder fired at Blankenship six times with a revolver as Blankenship lunged at him. The intruder then fled.

Investigating officers said the man, described as about 21 years old and six feet tall, apparently entered through an unlocked basement door and went through the apartment's kitchen to the bedroom of Blankenship's daughter Peggy, 12. She ran screaming into her father's bedroom, police said, and the shooting followed.

TUGS READY SUEZ FOR OPENING DAY. U.N. Secretary-Gen. Dag Hammarskjold (right) chats with Dutch salvage Capt. Jan Lolkus as tugs raise the "Edgar Bonnet," one of the last remaining obstacles in Suez Canal. The entire canal is expected to be open to craft drawing 30 feet of water by the end of the week.

No Change Seen

Dag Hits Dead End In Parley at Cairo

CAIRO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today was winding up his latest Cairo mission with no sign of any major change in Egypt's stand on the Middle East deadlocks.

Egyptian informants said President Nasser's government may make some slight concessions to big Western users of the Suez Canal. But they said Hammarskjold had run into a dead end in his efforts to get formal agreement from Nasser that U.N. troops could stay indefinitely in the Gaza Strip as a barrier against renewed violence.

Set To Leave Wednesday

The secretary general held what was expected to be his last talk with Nasser Monday night. He plans to leave for New York Wednesday.

Egyptian officials and the Egyptian press sought to give the impression a general agreement was imminent on the Suez Canal dispute, but Western diplomats were skeptical. U.N. sources emphasized that Hammarskjold is in Cairo only as a mediator.

Nasser is expected to announce next week his plans for the future operation of the vital waterway — plans he outlined to Hammarskjold during his visit. While Egyptian sources said the plan might give some slight ground, it was not expected to satisfy Western maritime nations which have demanded some sort of international control.

Nasser Sticks to Demands

In reply to Hammarskjold's proposals for keeping a U.N. buffer force in the Gaza strip and other tense border areas, Egypt was reported maintaining two general demands. These called for stationing of U.N. Emergency Force troops on the Israeli as well as the Egyptian side of the 1949 armistice line and for Israel's withdrawal from the El Auja demilitarized zone between the Sinai and Negeb deserts.

Unless Israel agrees to these terms, Egypt was reported determined not to call off the technical state of war that has existed since the shooting stopped in the 1948 Palestine War. This state of war has provided Egypt's basis for barring Israeli shipping from the Suez Canal.

Israel in the past has insisted firmly that it will not allow UNEF units to be stationed inside Israeli territory. Nor were the Israelis expected to pull out of El Auja, a key communications center.

Scouts To Aid Effort on Pool

Boys To Distribute Leaflets to Homes

Boy Scouts will begin distributing leaflets asking support for the community swimming pool to homes throughout the city and county today, officials of the pool organization announced.

A replica of the pool pledge card will be printed on the handbills. Residents who wish to pledge a contribution to the pool may use the replica on the handbill, or replicas which will appear in advertisements in The Star later this week, George Howser, co-chairman of the swimming pool organization said.

Many residents apparently were missed in a mailing of pledge cards earlier this month, and others may have forgotten where they put their cards, pool officials said.

It is hoped that the Boy Scout distribution will give stimulas to the campaign, which at last report had $12,417 in pledges. The campaign for pledges is scheduled to end April 1.

Mr. Howser said today that less than 100 pledges have been received from out-of-city residents.

He said that of the groups of citizens making pledges, physicians were far in the lead in the amount pledged.

Democratic National Committee File Raided

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee said today its offices were ransacked during the night and "files were pulled open and disturbed."

Police were called in to help check whether anything was missing. The headquarters are located on the second floor of the office building at 1001 Connecticut Ave. in downtown Washington.

Samuel C. Brightman, director of public affairs for the committee, said files in the library and Chairman Paul M. Butler's office were opened and papers strewn about.

"It apparently wasn't vandalism," Brightman said. "The assumption would be that they were after something. Just what is a little baffling to me."

He added "there doesn't seem to be a great deal missing."

Sickles Bound To Grand Jury On 2 Charges

Bond of $20,000 Is Continued at Hearing In Municipal Court

James Patrick Sickles, 31-year-old burglar suspect from Newark, was ordered held under $20,000 bond for the county grand jury this morning at a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court.

Acting Judge George A. Piacentino, sitting in the absence of Judge W. Dexter Hazen, ordered Sickles held on charges of shooting with intent to kill and breaking and entering.

Two Called To Testify

Judge Piacentino ruled out a third charge of possession of burglar tools in the action since testimony taken this morning made no mention of the charge.

Witnesses called by Prosecutor Robert O. Stout were Harrison Warwick, employe of Carl's Auto Parts, and Patrolman Charles Alspach.

Sickles was struck five times by slugs fired by police during a running gun battle after he allegedly broke into Carl's Auto Parts warehouse on Oak and Mill St. the night of Feb. 13.

Arm Still in Cast

The suspect was released from Marion General Hospital March 21. His left arm was still encased in a cast this morning.

Mr. Warwick testified today that he was watching television in an office at Carl's Auto Parts at about 10 p.m. Feb. 13. He said he heard pounding from the south

Teamsters' Boss Keeps His Records

Challenges Senators' Jurisdiction Over His, Union's Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Beck today invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to give Senate rackets investigators his financial records.

In an uproarious session, Beck also challenged the jurisdiction of the senators to investigate either his affairs or those of the giant Teamsters Union which he heads.

Told by Chairman McClellan

Meany Calls Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, today called a meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council on Friday to consider the Dave Beck case. The AFL-CIO spokesman who announced the meeting did not elaborate beyond saying it would deal "with this Beck thing, of course."

(D-Ark) that evidence indicates Beck "may have misappropriated $320,000" of union funds. Beck said any union member who felt "aggrieved" could take it up through established union procedures.

In pleading the Constitution's protection under the first three articles and under the Fourth and Fifth amendments, Beck insisted "I'm not hiding behind anything."

Shouts at Probers

He was, he shouted, just exercising his rights as a citizen.

But Beck, under intense questioning from McClellan, also said he honestly believed that turning records over to the committee would tend to incriminate him.

McClellan pressed Beck to say whether he honestly believed that.

"Yes, I think so very definitely," Beck finally replied.

"So you think it would (tend to incriminate him)?" McClellan asked.

"Yes sir," said Beck.

The 63-year-old Beck, dapper and well turned out on a conservative gray suit and tan checked tie, came before the senators in response to a request and without a formal subpena.

Served Subpena on Spot

But when he refused to turn over his financial records, he was served with a subpena on the spot.

Still invoking the Fifth Amendment, he refused to comply with the subpena's demand for his records.

Spectators jammed every bit of space in the marble-columned

Council Hears Report

Mayor's Views Sought On Local Building Code

A proposal to adopt a national building code, by reference, for Marion was discussed briefly by City Council at its meeting in City Hall Monday night and sent on to Mayor Gale D. Ireland for his recommendation.

The proposal first was presented to council several months ago by the utilities committee of council. Several questions arose concerning cost and method of adoption and it was returned to committee for more study.

AT LAST NIGHT'S meeting, Richard Lister, councilman - at - large and utilities committee chairman, said his committee had studied the code thoroughly, decided it would be acceptable for Marion and that it is needed.

He said further that the committee recognized that unless it could be adopted by reference, the city could not afford the cost of advertising the entire code.

But he said his committee could do nothing more with the code and that it was being returned to council for consideration with a recommendation it be adopted if possible.

"We brought it back because we do not want it to die in committee," he said.

A LETTER from Solicitor Riley Hall advised council that there have been rulings by both the Ohio Supreme Court and the state attorney general's office that such codes may not be adopted by reference.

Mr. Hall said further that in his opinion the only two methods by which the code may be adopted are:

1. Reading and publishing it in its entirety as required for any other ordinance.

2. By authorizing needed amendments to the city code and to include within them the proposed building code. In this method council could adopt the building code after giving it a complete reading at a regular meeting and publishing a summary of it, he said.

Mr. Hall said that it is true that other cities have adopted such codes contrary to the rulings of the Supreme Court and the attor-

JUDE

"And Judas the brother of James . . ."
—Luke VI·16

Jude, who was known also as Judas Thaddeus and Lebbeus, was another son of Alpheus and, consequently, a close relative of Jesus

Beyond being mentioned in the catalogue of Apostles, the New Testament tells us very little about Jude, except indirectly For example, as one of the brethren of the Lord," Jude may have been married It is also said that he did not fully believe in Jesus and His mission until after the Resurrection

The only incident related by Scripture concerning Jude during the ministry of Jesus occurs in John XIV 22 23, but it gives some insight into the character of the Apostle

Jude asks Jesus "Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?"

Jesus replied 'If a man love me, he will keep my words and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him"

Jude is author of one of the General Epistles which bears his name During the third and fourth centuries, several of the churches raised doubts as to its canonicity, but it was later considered canonical by all

In his epistle (or letter) Jude warns the congregation against a number of false teachers and heresies of that time and exhorts the Christians to persevere in the faith

Commenting on Jude's epistle, Hastings, in his "Great Texts of the Bible," says

"He sounds the final note of warning The key word is 'kept' Those who embrace the faith are preserved unto the day of presentation, those who reject and oppose the faith are 'reserved unto the day of retribution"

Little is known of Jude's history following Pentecost Some ancient sources say he traveled and preached in Arabia, Syria, Mesopotamia, and Persia

Richwood Council Seeks Solution to Parking Problem

RICHWOOD — The Richwood Village Council Monday night agreed to ask all persons who park their cars in the business district all day to park on streets away from the center of town

The decision was reached after representatives of many Richwood businessmen requested some restriction on parking time in the business district They claimed most of the parking spots in the district were tied up several hours at a time by the same cars In several instances they said, the cars belonged to workers in the local stores In other cases the businessmen pointed out persons who work out of town drive to the center of town in the morning park their cars drive to work in a car pool and leave the cars in the business area until they return that afternoon from work

The businessmen offered several different plans for controlling the situation including a two hour parking limit at certain times in the day and installation of parking meters

After a two - hour discussion council agreed to publish notices asking the merchants and their employes to park on streets outside the business district The marshall is to make personal contact with persons who work out of town and park in the business district and ask them to park elsewhere

The businessmen will meet again with council on April 22 They indicated that if Monday night's plan fails to work they will request definite legislation by council to control the parking time

Freedom for 3 Is Short-Lived At Port Clinton

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Catching three men who sawed their way out of the Ottawa County Jail here Monday night was as easy as following footprints in fresh snow

The late March snowfall was coating the ground when Antonio Rodriquez, 27, and Henry Mitchell, 22—both of Corpus Christi, Tex., and both scheduled to go to the Ohio Penitentiary to serve manslaughter sentences—fled the jail along with Kenneth Clark, 27, Port Clinton, who was serving a six-month sentence for non support

Less than three hours later the three men had been captured by law officers who followed a trail of footprints about four miles along a railroad track to Lacarne

One of the three was found in a farm shed, another was near a railroad crossing, and the third was found hiding behind a building in a residential section All were very subdued as they were led back to their cells

14 Motorists Get Break

MOUNT GILEAD — Fourteen motorists who thought they had been 'trapped' by a Mount Gilead speed meter on Route 95 west of Mount Gilead recently were given a break The break came when village officials discovered that part of the road had never been officially annexed to the village Motorists who had appeared in court already were sent refunds of their fines Those who had been issued citations for later appearances were told to forget them Meanwhile village officials looked for a better spot to set up their speed detecting device

Restore Service

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Officials of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co say from 300 to 400 phones are being restored to service daily Thousands of phones were knocked out during the 7½ month strike that ended recently The company said 37 crews are repairing cables

Around City Council's Table

Marion City Council adopted 10 pieces of legislation and discussed numerous other items of business at its regular meeting Monday night in City Hall.

All the councilmen, the council president and the council clerk were present for the meeting. Other city officials attending were: Mayor Gale D. Ireland, who arrived near the end of the session; City Solicitor Riley Hall; City Engineer John V. Ruth; City Auditor Elmer Shaw and Robert Wooley, deputy city auditor.

The invocation was given by Rev. J. Paul Goebel, pastor of the First Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Ordinance Adopted

An ordinance authorizing the the safety-service director to advertise for bids and sign contracts for purchase of supplies and materials for use by the service and safety departments was adopted 9-0 after considerable discussion.

Mr. Hall said the contracts authorized are of the "open-end" type and are bid on unit prices so that supplies may be purchased as needed. He said that these supplies include such things as gasoline, crushed stone, sand, cement, rock salt and asphalt emulsion.

John Corwin, Fifth Ward, raised a question as to whether there are sufficient funds available for the purpose.

Robert G. Haldeman, councilman-at-large, replied that council had appropriated $25,000 for this purpose and said no more could be spent unless council made an additional appropriation.

'Meter Maids' Asked

Proposals to hire an additional policeman and four "meter maids" for the police department were referred to the finance committee for further study.

Harold Smith, First Ward councilman, said Police Chief Justin Cornely had proposed re-employing a former policeman with 10 years' experience.

Mr. Smith said his municipal services committee was in favor of adopting the proposal. He added that the chief proposed to employ the man as an extra policeman pending resignation or retirement of any of the present patrolmen at which time the extra man would be moved onto the regular force.

The proposal for the meter maids is to employ four women to police parking meters and was requested by Police Chief Cornely and Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow, Mr. Haldeman said.

Proposed salaries would be from $190 to $225 a month and the appointments would be made by the safety-service director. They would not be subject to civil service regulations, he said.

Mr. Lister said Chief Cornely had told him that he would prefer hiring four meter maids rather than two additional patrolmen and said that the women would help increase the efficienty of the police department.

Mayor Ireland said his understanding was that the meter maids could release patrolmen for more important duties on other jobs, such as traffic control and crime investigation and control.

Mr. Lister said he felt that the plan should be tried on a temporary basis and if the meter maids don't increase revenue from parking meters and overtime parking tickets to cover the cost of salaries, the positions should be abolished.

Mr. Corwin said he could see no way the meter maids could increase revenues if the meters already are being used to capacity and are being policed properly.

Herman Rinehart, Third Ward, said that Chief Cornely had said that during heavy downtown traffic and other emergency situations there are not enough available patrolmen to police the meters properly.

Mr. Courtright said he felt that if the plan is adopted, it should be on a trial basis with the use of part-time employes until it is determined whether it is workable. He suggested it might be possible to use high school or college students at lower rates of pay.

Improvements Sought

A request of the city park board for an additional $5,000 to repair and improve the restrooms at Lincoln Park was presented and necessary legislation was ordered prepared for consideration at the next council meeting.

Mr. Haldeman presented the park board's request and said that a local service club proposes to provide funds for improving the park with a blacktopped play area, provided the restrooms are improved.

Charles Morbitt, park board chairman, said that the board plans to remodel the restrooms and install new sewer service lines and a city water line.

He said the board is concentrating on improving Lincoln Park but that it has not forgotten the needs of other parks in the city. He said plans are to improve one park at a time.

Mr. Haldeman said his committee recommended preparation of an ordinance for the additional funds and council adopted a motion ordering it prepared.

The problem of maintaining and carrying for the old Quarry St. Cemetery also was discussed briefly.

Mr. Osterholt said that Mr. Bigelow had written him a letter to the effect that the cemetery is owned by the city and is the city's responsibility to maintain it.

Mr. Osterholt suggested that it might be possible to clean up the area, place the few remaining headstones in one central location and use the area as a playground or park area.

Mr. Morbitt said the park board could take care of maintenance and mowing of the tract if a fence were erected around it to keep it from being cluttered with trash.

The matter was referred to the safety-service director for further action.

The discussion on the cemetery also brought forth a brief discussion on the use of unvented gas heaters in the city.

It was pointed out that last year the health department had asked that noxious weeds growing in the cemetery be kept mowed.

Mr. Lister said he saw no reason for the health department to be concerned with the health menace of the weeds when a more serious problem exists less than a block away from the cemetery He said there is a nearby apartment house with 15 families living in it and only one toilet for all their use and each apartment is heated with unvented gas heaters.

Mayor Ireland suggested adoption of an ordinance prohibiting use of unvented gas heaters but council took no further action on the matter

Vacations Approved

An ordinance to establish vacations in the sanitation and service departments was adopted 8-1. Mr. Smith said his committee had studied the matter and the proposal was to establish the same vacation regulations for these departments as prevail for other city employes. In the voting on the ordinance, Mr. Osterholt voted against it because he said he felt it needed more detailed study.

Alley Vacated

An ordinance to vacate an east-west alley between S. Main and S. State streets south of E. Columbia St. was adopted 9-0. Ralph Williams, street and alley committee chairman, said there was no objection from abutting property owners.

Resolutions Studied

Two resolutions of necessity for sewer improvements on parts of Henry St. and Breen St. were sent to the finance committee for study. Both improvements were requested by petition of property owners. Council decided it would be necessary to determine if the city has funds for its share of the cost of the sewers before adopting the resolutions. Estimated cost of the Henry St. sewer, from Broad St. south, is $966 and for the Breen t. sewer, $1,043.

Claim Approved

An ordinance to pay a claim of $40 to Mrs. A. L. Malott of 288 E. Center St. was adopted 9-0.

Herman Rinehart, sewer committee chairman, said his committee recommended payment of the claim. He said it was for damage done when water was forced into the basement of Mrs. Malott's property during a sewer flushing by city employes.

TOP GENERAL. Highest ranking officer in the new West German army is Lt. Gen. Adolf Heusinger, who stood beside Adolf Hitler when the bomb intended for assasination of Hitler went off. Heusinger, 59, will be inspector general and joint chiefs of staff chairman, and will have four-star rank. He was in on the Hitler plot, and was to have been "sacrificed" in the bomb explosion.

Other Business

In other business, council:

Received a warning from Mr. Haldeman that some $20,000 in notes on the new city garage on W. Center St. are due this year and should be paid off.

He said the city administration should keep this in mind and hold expenditures to a minimum so that funds will be available to pay off the notes. He added it would cost too much to issue bonds to obtain money to pay off the notes

He declared that "we're in a pinch" on this because Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow had told council that part of the cost of the new city garage could be paid for by sale of the old Owens St. city barn property. He said Mr. Bigelow had said that the Millard Hunt Co. had offered to buy the property for $20,000 but when bids were received on it, the highest one was for only $5,000.

Received and placed on file were letters commending the fire chief for his department's fire safety activities last year. Council also adopted a motion that it similarly commend the chief.

Council received a report from Ralph Williams that signs on Windsor St. permitting parking in a fire lane on Sundays from 9 to 12 are not authorized by ordinance. Council adopted a motion directing the safety-service director to remove the signs and restore the fire lane parking prohibition at all times.

Freedom for 63 Is Authorized By Pardon and Parole Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission today granted a parole to Mrs. Rosie Cosumano of Summit County who had her life sentence commuted to second degree murder by former Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Mrs. Cosumano, 55, will be released from the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville on May 1.

The Akron woman, along with Joseph Catanio, was convicted of first degree murder in the ax slaying on Aug. 17, 1921, of Joseph Congeni.

The commission rejected a parole bid for Anthony Liberatore, 35, who also had a life term commuted to second degree murder.

Liberatore's case will receive another hearing in April, 1958. He and Mario Gallina, 33, were convicted in the slaying of two Cleveland detectives in 1937. Both had their sentences commuted by former Gov. John W. Brown. Gallina recently was denied a parole.

The board granted a parole to Calvin Foster, 46, sentenced from Hamilton County for second degree murder, in the shotgun slaying of his wife July 25, 1946.

The board granted paroles to 52 inmates at the London Prison Farm and extended paroles to 11 inmates at the Ohio Reformatory for Women.

City Police Open Drive On Delinquent Tickets

City police today began an all-out effort to collect delinquent parking tickets, some of which date back to 1954, according to Inspector Clyde Hardin.

Persons delinquent in payment are being contacted by a city patrolman at their homes and businesses. Inspector Hardin said those who do not pay or arrange to pay when contacted will be brought into Municipal Court.

At least one party is known to have 17 unpaid parking tickets, the inspector said.

What do these famous products have to do with Marion

...besides please homemakers from breakfast to biscuits?

"Employees are always glad to see a company diversify its products. Making more kinds of products that people want and need is good insurance against standing still or losing ground, and it makes jobs more secure. We are glad that The Quaker Oats Company makes over 200 products—ranging from pet foods to a ready-mix for tortillas, from cereals to chemicals that go into nylon and plastics," says one of the Quakers, Zelma Haas, in Marion.

Many folks here in this community work for The Quaker Oats Company. Known far and wide, the Company is famous for the quality and purity of its products. And that's one reason why the people who work for the Company take such pride in their jobs . . . and in all Quaker products.

Products like Quaker Oats and Mother's Oats fill a need of local homemakers for quick, nourishing breakfasts. New Quaker oatmeal is on the table in one minute—extra-creamy, high in protein. Bread and biscuits made with Quaker family flours are another "success story" (see box).

As you enjoy Quaker products "from breakfast to biscuits", you'll see why your "Quaker" friends and neighbors say, "If The Quaker Oats Company makes it, it's got to be good!"

Q. Who bakes the best biscuits known to Man?
A. Women—using Aunt Jemima, Quaker Best, and other superior-quality Quaker family flours!

These flours are in demand because they give you whiter, fluffy biscuits, finer-textured cakes. They are milled just that much finer-whiter-lighter. Backed by generous guarantees, they're the best flours you can buy at any price!

Employment Chief Scherff To Retire

Mrs. Mills Will Assume Post as Acting Head Of Local Office

Forthcoming retirement of Fred B. Scherff of 348 Hane Ave. after nearly 40 years as an employment service manager, 30 of them with Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, was announced today by James R. Tichenor, administrator of the state bureau.

Pending the effective date of Mr. Scherff's retirement on July 1, Mrs. Mary K. Mills of 375 Hane Ave. will be acting manager and will become manager on July 1, Mr. Tichenor said.

MR. SCHERFF'S long career in the local employment service began in May, 1918, when he was named superintendent of the first state-city employment office in Marion.

Affiliated with the United States employment service, the office here and in other Ohio cities served during World War I in the recruitment of employes for various federal projects. Mr. Scherff recalls that it sometimes was necessary to go into local plants and obtain various employes when an order came from the government.

He pointed out that Ohio was the first state to set up such a service. The first office was opened in Toledo in 1890, Mr. Scherff said.

Now 72, but feeling "like 32," Mr. Scherff plans to devote his time to his real estate business. He pointed out that he first became a licensed real estate broker in 1915 before joining the state employment service and has maintained his license since then. "I don't intend to sit around doing nothing just because I've retired from state service," he said.

A NATIVE OF Marion, Mr. Scherff was graduated from the old Marion High School in 1904 and shortly thereafter went to work in the city engineering department where he remained about one year. He next was employed by the Marion Steam Shovel Co. until 1908 and then was with the former Big Four railroad until 1912. From then until 1918 he was associated with his father in a grocery store business on Columbia St. His father, Louis Scherff, served as mayor of Marion from 1906 to 1910.

FRED B. SCHERFF
Manager for 40 Years

MRS. MARY K. MILLS
Appointed Acting Manager

The first state-city employment service office was short - lived in Marion. In October, 1919, at the close of the war, it and all other similar offices in the state, except seven in the larger cities, were closed.

But, despite the closing of the state office, free employment service in Marion continued under the direction of Mr. Scherff. On the same day the state-city office was closed, he was named executive secretary and employment counselor for the Marion Manufacturers' Association and retained this position for 10 years. From 1921-1923 he served also as secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers' Association of Central Ohio, covering 14 counties.

In May, 1929, the state office again was opened in Marion and Mr. Scherff was appointed manager retaining the position until the present time.

IN AUGUST, 1922, he and three other local men organized and incorporated the Crystal Lake Park Co. The other incorporators were Fred Guthery, Millard Hunt and William Holverstott.

They purchased the 52-acre tract of land just north of Marion and from 1922 to 1925 operated a swimming pool. In 1925, the company expended $325,000 to set up an amusement park, including the building of a dance hall and other amusement facilities.

The amusement section of the park closed down in 1929 but the dance hall continued to operate and is still standing. The amusement facilities were disposed of and in 1948 the balance of the property, the swimming pool and the dance hall, were sold to out-of-town interests.

Office records show that the Marion office placed a total of 6,917 persons in various jobs including farm labor in its three-county area during 1956, he said. The local office serves Marion, Morrow and Crawford Counties.

Mr. Scherff was married 49 years ago on March 19 to the former Miss Vada Fields, a native of Union County. They have no children.

Mrs. Mills, who will become manager of the local office on July 1, first joined the state service on Dec. 21, 1938.

Starting as a clerk she soon was promoted to interviewer and beginning in 1942 served also as labor market analyst and secretary to Mr. Scherff.

She also is a native of Marion County and is the daughter of Mrs. C. M. Alheit and the late Mr. Alheit. She is married to Ralph E. Mills, also a native of Marion. They have no children.

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — When Norman Stilley's truck broke down he placed a warning flare and went for help. He returned to find the truck in charred ruins. State Police said a passing vehicle knocked the flare under the hay-laden truck.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

A seven-year-old girl was injured in one of three traffic accidents investigated Monday and today by Marion city police.

Karen Huffer of near Waldo suffered minor injuries when cars driven by Mrs. Forest Loudenslager, 44, of near Marion and Darwin McCurdy, 33, of near Waldo collided at the intersection of Mill and N. Main streets.

The child was a passenger in the McCurdy auto, which was traveling south on N. Main St. She was taken to the office of a local physician where she was treated.

The accident occurred at 5:47 p.m. Monday.

A parked car owned by Samuel Davidson of 680 N. Main St. was damaged in the left rear when struck by a northbound auto at 12:07 this morning. The accident was reported by Kenneth Meade of Morral who told police he was following the car on N. Main St. He said the driver failed to stop after striking the Davidson auto.

The other accident caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Religion Is Tried For Coffee Breaks

CHICAGO (INS) — A "brotherhood in business" program is getting a tryout during "coffee breaks" at a Chicago manufacturing plant.

Employes in the plant, instead of "chewing the fat" during relief perirods, this year will have the chance to talk religion with clergymen of their own and other religions one day a week.

Peter Volid, president of the firm which employes some 50 persons said the plan aims at "putting religious principles to work" in the business world.

He said the company will contribute half the time for the 30-minute employe-clergyman "coffee conferences" with present 15-minute employe reliefs making up the rest.

Ministers of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths will rotate their visits to the plant. Topics for the conferences will be developed according to interest, the clergymen have decided.

Volid said the sessions "may serve as a pattern for other businesses to follow, so that the principles of the various religions can be made to work throughout the year."

School Artist Collects On Presley Popularity

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Elvis Presley isn't the only one profiting by his popularity.

Ted Whisenhunt, 15, a talented young artist, drew a pencil sketch of the teen-age idol for a drawing class.

A Junior High school classmate —female, of course—saw the sketch and bought it for 50 cents.

Since then Ted has doubled his asking price and has sold six sketches.

He made the sketch from a picture of Presley in a movie magazine.

The first United States census, taken in 1790, listed 3,929,214 inhabitants.

Mayoralty Campaign

The opening gun in the 1957 Marion mayoralty campaign has been fired, and we hope it leads to a thorough discussion of the issues between now and the May primary.

In 1955 the mayoralty "campaign" was virtually non-existent in the general election as well as the primary, with the result that the voters went to the polls with little or no idea of what the rival candidates believed or might accomplish in office if elected.

There is always the danger in the give-and-take of a hot political campaign that it may become a duel of personalities, and that is never to be condoned.

But it is a hazard that can be faced and handled if all participants remember their primary purpose in campaigning, which is to inform the public of their thinking and their qualifications.

We hope that by next November the issues are quite clearcut in the Marion mayoralty race.

Age of Experts

Ohio apparently is going to reconsider its requirement that state administrators must be homegrown.

There will continue to be Ohioans who believe there is enough administrative talent in this state to take care of all public posts.

But even bitter-enders will admit this is an age of experts—and that an expert, like a prophet, is more likely to look like one when several hundred miles from home.

This presumably is one of the reasons Gov. O'Neill and the state board of education wanted out-of-state experts for Ohio's big job of expediting highway building and school reorganization.

Charles M. Noble had made a name for himself as the expert who built the New Jersey Turnpike. Harold S. Vincent had made a name for himself, after doing good school work in Ohio, as superintendent of Milwaukee schools.

Mr. Noble evaded the homegrown requirements by going on the Ohio payroll as a $30,000-a-year secretary, a ruse that may backfire in court some day. But Mr. Vincent, unwilling to take a chance, stayed in Milwaukee.

If Ohio voters get a chance to abolish the homegrown requirement in a referendum next November, they will throw it out, although some of them might prefer to make it double-edged—Ohio will stick to homegrown talent if the homegrown talent will stick to Ohio.

Ohio's $2 Million Share

In the federal test of budget - cutting that Sen. Lausche brought to a showdown by opposing a $4.9 million handout to Cleveland for a stadium to house the Pan-American games, a state test also was included.

Ohioans would be expected to give $2 million to the city of Cleveland to help build the same stadium.

This detail — if $2 million can be called a detail in Ohio — was overlooked in the excitement started by Sen. Lausche about the federal appropriation.

Cleveland is still nursing a hope of getting $4.9 million in Washington. Ohioans still have a lively interest in the $2 million Cleveland is hoping to get in Columbus.

It may be assumed the same pressure for a dubious expenditure is being applied in both places. Although the new credo of the American people that budgets should be and could be cut has not taken hold in Columbus as aggressively as it has taken hold in Washington, it is as credible to taxpayers one place as another.

And it is just as curious one place as another that people who believe foolish spending is indefensible always defend it when they would be the beneficiaries. That is why a handout to Cleveland has become a test case for budget-cutting—something that would be fine, but not for Cleveland.

12-Month School Use

Latest of the school systems to open discussion of year-around use of school buildings is Cleveland. Its superintendent has been directed to study a plan to keep the system operating 52 weeks a year, with one quarter of the students on vacation each quarter-term.

An alternative plan to be studied in Cleveland would keep the buildings in use only 48 weeks a year, also with pupils taking vacations each quarter.

The immediate purpose in Cleveland, as in all places where the plan is under consideration at this time, is to spare taxpayers further capital investments in school buildings until the buildings already in existence are in full use.

But the ultimate effect would be in education, itself. Once year-around education became common, there would be an opportunity for year-around study by pupils who want to get the most possible education in the least possible time.

This will be imperative for students who want to take advanced training; they cannot afford to mark time three months a year with college and post-graduate work awaiting them. Moreover, the country cannot afford to let them mark time.

Deterrent Action

By David Lawrence

U.S. Interest in Mideast Made Clear to Reds

When President Eisenhower told Prime Minister Macmillan of Great Britain that the United States had decided to give military support to the Baghdad Pact, it was both a warning to Soviet Russia and a step in retaliation for the sending of arms to Egypt by the Moscow regime.

Lawrence

To the average American who doesn't have his maps handy it should be recalled that the members of the Baghdad Pact — Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan — all are directly alongside the borders of Soviet Russia. There is in this area no group of buffer countries between the Soviets and the Western powers as is the case in Eastern Europe where Moscow maintains her own troops inside the satellite states.

It's the first time that American military power may be interposed directly athwart the path of the Soviets in the Middle East and in Central Asia.

The Western group of nations in the free world will now have their outposts of ground and air forces ready to resist Communist aggression in the Far East, in Central and Southeast Asia, in the Middle East and in Western Europe.

The series of bases and potential bases represents a definitely drawn line around the Soviets.

THIS ACTION by the United States has been made possible through the approval by Congress of the Eisenhower Doctrine.

While it is true that a president always has the power to resist sudden attack on our own territory or on our own ships at sea, the virtue of the Eisenhower Doctrine is that Congress now has joined in giving advance authorization for the use of American forces in an area of the world where the Soviets, unless deterred, could readily start a miscalculated aggression against the Western powers.

What is emerging is a new use of deterrent power. Superficial analysis of the Eisenhower Doctrine recently by some of the political critics in Congress and by some writers — who kept citing previous authority and precedents as sufficient for a presidential use of our military forces today in any troubled areas — completely overlooked the deterrent effect sought by Mr. Eisenhower.

This is achieved only when the Congress and the executive together issue a plain warning of the intended use of American military power in a specific zone that might be regarded by Soviet Russia as a logical place for penetration.

The Soviets certainly would not be as much impressed by a reading of miscellaneous precedents of 100 years standing as by concrete action taken in 1957 by both houses of Congress.

Moscow may be unhappy about America's latest move in publicly announcing an intention to support militarily the Baghdad Pact but the Soviets asked for it when they meddled in the Middle East and supplied arms to Nasser.

The latest move by the United States is a stern warning that America will not stand idly by and let the Soviets penetrate the Middle East with further aid in arms.

ALTHOUGH the United States specifically says there is no intention to use American military support for any member countries of the Baghdad Pact in disputes with each other or with other countries in the Middle East or in any of their own areas, as, for instance, between Pakistan and India, the fact remains that the buildup of the Baghdad members on a military basis will have counter - effect on any Soviet schemes to stimulate such local wars.

There is evidence that Moscow has been fishing in troubled waters all along and that Syria and Egypt have come under Soviet military influence.

So it is natural for the West to take measures of defense against such potential aggression by the Soviets and this is the real significance of our joining in the military planning to be done with the members of the Baghdad Pact which, of course, includes Britain.

The consummation between the United States and Britain of this important step in military cooperation in the Middle East itself must necessarily have a profound effect wherever the illusion has prevailed that America and Britain would be driven apart hereafter just because of the failure to consult each other last October in the Suez crisis.

COL. NASSER will not be happy over what has happened but unless he renounces his Soviet alliance he will find Egypt isolated militarily and certainly the Soviets will not be able to bring arms to him in the event that any trouble breaks out again in the Middle East.

For the latest action by the United States fulfilling one of the main purposes of the Eisenhower Doctrine draws a line on the map south of which Soviet Russia cannot supply military forces or arms without incurring the hostility of the Baghdad Pact members and the United States.

As a London dispatch puts it, the new move by America is viewed as the most important Middle East development since the Communist arms deal with Egypt became known last year.

Figure Wizards

By TRUMAN TWILL

A little announcement that the U.S. Labor Department is going to double - check its cost - of - living index strikes this consumer as the story of the year in the realm of the statistics that men now live by.

When the department is through double - checking that statistic, it should proceed without delay to check statistics on automobile accidents, literacy, the average height and weight of males and females, the number of schoolrooms needed in this country, per capita wealth and the value of the almighty dollar.

Without the slightest intention of questioning the good faith of statisticians, figures lie — and when they become a gimmick for built-in inflation, as they are in the cost - of - living index, they should be double - checked relentlessly.

This consumer of goods and services, including the arbitrary list on which the Labor Department bases its price index, erroneously called a "cost - of - living" index, keeps having a nightmare about it.

In the nightmare, a gremlin gets into the comptometer on which the statistics are cranked out by the figger wizards.

The gremlin sits in there laughing his pointed head off because he is playing the comptometer like a pipe organ, pulling out stops, running scales and hitting the works with both feet.

His improvisation is immortalized for posterity in the official tabulation — and the trouble begins.

Word flashes to all points of this country that the price index has jumped umpty-dee points since last month. This statistic now has the impact of Word From on High. The vast machinery of automatic adjustments and price - doctoring clanks into action and away we go!

Millions of people who never handle any money—just figures on paper — learn that all the figures have been switched around. Wage increases are granted automatically because that is the way it is in an era of statistic-worship. Prices jump and the whole country gets air-borne.

By the time a sober-sided skeptic gets around to double - checking what the gremlin has improvised with his fingers and toes, there have been so many changes made that Fulton Lewis Jr., himself, cannot undo the damage. It is an irrevocable mess.

And at that it is no worse than the mess that is routine as statisticians grind out a welter of statistics that may or may not be true but certainly are no substitute for judgment.

Statistics that lead people to believe they should be taller, shorter, fatter, or thinner than they are. Statistics that kid them into thinking all is lost or all is saved, depending on who is cranking the figure machines. Statistics that cause them to flee to the hills or run to the valleys.

The last time the Department of Labor double -checked that price-index gimmick was in 1950-1951. The gremlin has had six years. There is no lack of evidence that he has been bizzy, bizzy, bizzy.

Daily Bible Thought

That is the kind of teaching that raised Israel from slavery to magnificent strength. The cruelest oppressors could not kill her nor even stop her progress. That is the sure way to attain security from the cradle to the grave. "Be strong all ye people of the land, saith Jehovah, and work: for I am with you."—Haggai 2:4.

Leaks Revealed in School Aid

By Raymond Moley

In his pleas for federal aid for school construction, including his not very successful controversy with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States over the validity of the administration's figures on the need, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Folsom gives every assurance that Uncle Sam will just give the money and look the other way so far as spending is concerned.

In short, the impression is given that there will be no federal control of schools.

But isn't such control inevitable, considering the itchy hands of Washington bureaucrats?

Would not the federal government be under an obligation to be responsible for the grants to the states in this case?

Thus the administration is caught in a serious dilemma. It must assure — perhaps should assure — Congress that it will see that the money appropriated is providently spent.

And it must, so far as the political exigencies are concerned, assure the states that it will not interfere with the operation and maintenance of the schools.

ALSO INVOLVED in the whole question is the established fact that when state and local agencies are spending their own money they are more careful to avoid extravagance than when they are spending everybody's money. That is obvious.

Secretary Folsom takes great pains also — both in his statement before the House Commitee considering the subject, and in his letter to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States — to claim that while the federal government for some years has been giving hundreds of millions for the construction and maintenance of schools in areas overburdened because of federal defense installations and other federal activities, it has not exercised any control over the expenditures of those funds.

According to the revelations to the House by a very useful member, Congressman Frank T. Bow of Canton, Ohio, somebody ought to be supervising such gifts because of evidence of wanton extravagance.

The congressman's interest was aroused because of the refusal of the school board of Arlington County, Va., to make public the details of its budget for 1957-1958.

It appears that because of the great federal burden on Arlington County the federal government paid about 10 per cent of the costs of the schools there, both for maintenance and construction.

UPON INVESTIGATION, Congressman Bow turned up some very interesting items.

There is in the budget, he says, $6,000 to pay expenses of employes to conventions and for training courses at schools.

Those attending these conventions, whose expenses the nation's taxpayers are thus paying, then pass ringing resolutions in favor of federal aid.

Of course, there are many items in school maintenance and construction other than the classrooms that the President and the secretary are talking about so much.

There are incidentals such as school bands. There are requested in Arlington "several sousaphones at costs ranging from $700 to $850," and also a harp at $1,500, and four pianos at $500 each.

The children of the federal bureaucrats living in Arlington will thus be amply supplied the means if not the reality of music.

But the abuse of those musical instruments must be something frightful! For there is an item of $1,900 for piano tuning.

CONGRESSMAN BOW found that a good piano tuning job can be done for a non-government owned piano for $8.50. Thus there must be 224 pianos already in Arlington in 44 schools.

Strange that they should need any more — that is, pianos.

A table tennis table is needed at $50. This seems high. There are also items of furniture for tea rooms in some schools. Children, according to Secretary Folsom, are crowded in unfit, unsanitary schools but teachers must have their tea, perhaps so that they can stand the horrible sight of crowded children.

This delineation of what a school seems to need these days makes it clear that federal aid is not merely to provide good, comfortable rooms and desks and blackboards where children may learn the three R's. There must be fringe benefits. Or are they benefits?

Lincoln as Commander

By John F. Sembower

CHICAGO — Abraham Lincoln emerges from the pages of the largest newly discovered collection of American historical documents as an even more active director of the North's military forces in the Civil War than has generally been supposed.

Ralph G. Newman, whose Abraham Lincoln bookshop here is the most unusual institution of its kind in the country and the "unofficial headquarters" of Lincoln authorities and Civil War experts the world over, purchased the more than 2,000 papers last June from the estate of Wiley R. Reynolds, retired industrialist, who had bought it in 1945 from the late Dr. Ellsworth Eliot Jr., of New York City. It has since been valued at "between a half million and a million dollars."

After spending many weeks just cataloguing the papers which stretch from the Revolutionary War period through the Civil War, Newman finally has been able to get down to close examination of them. Reynolds had died before he had a chance to study them carefully, and they had been in a Palm Beach, Fla., bank vault since 1945, unavailable to Lincoln scholars.

SHOWING HOW the original documents bring out the dominant role played by Lincoln as nothing else can, Newman states that the famous message from War Secretary Stanton to Grant telling him how to conduct the surrender negotiations with Lee actually was written by the President himself.

Lincoln often acted as his own stenographer, and on that occasion was Stanton's. The characteristic handwriting of the two men leaves no doubt that Stanton wrote only the date, salutation and his own signature; Lincoln penned all the rest

"The President directs me to say to you that that he wishes you to have no conference with General Lee unless it be for the capitulation of Gen. Lee's army, or on some minor and purely military matter," wrote Lincoln for Stanton.

Considering that the message was written by Lincoln himself, it shows how determined he was to "follow through" to complete victory and to keep the reins in his own hands:

"He instructs me," wrote Lincoln for Stanton, "to say that you are not to decide, discuss or confer upon any political question. Such questions the President holds in his own hands, and will submit them to no military conferences or conventions. Meantime you are to press to the utmost, your military advantages."

IT NOW APPEARS that Grant's message reporting Lee asked for terms reached Lincoln and Stanton in the office of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, where Lincoln had gone on the night of March 3, 1865, to be close at hand to sign last-minute bills passed by Congress just before adjournment. The original of the document is in Lincoln's sometimes hard-to-read scrawl, while Stanton's few words are in a fine Spencerian script.

Among the documents lately examined is a letter written by Lincoln on June 10, 1863, to Major General Hooker, then his chief commander in the field: "Your long dispatch of today is just received. If left to me, I would not go south of the Rappahannock upon Lee's moving north of it."

Then the commander in chief went into detail: "If you had Richmond invested today, you would not be able to take it (Lee's army) in twenty days; meanwhile your communications, and with them, your army, would be ruined. I think Lee's army, and not Richmond, is your true objective point. If he comes toward the upper Potomac, follow on his flank, over on the inside track, shortening your lines while he lengthens his. Fight him too, when opportunity offers. If he stops where he is, fret him, and fret him."

NEWMAN POINTS out that the papers emphasize the great differences between the presidency then and now. Even though Lincoln was directing the Union forces in the field as much as he could from a distance, he did not have any elaborate communications center in the White House or even close liaison at times with his commanders.

One small paper starkly bearing this out is a one - sentence memorandum, dated Aug. 27, 1862, to Lincoln's cautious commander, Gen. McClellan, with the one-line query: "What news from the front? (signed) A. Lincoln."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

War on Billboards

Washington is out to limit billboards on new highways, imposing a penalty of 5 per cent on Federal grants for highways in states refusing to co-operate. There is stout opposition from billboard interests. But it is a fair question whether an auto trip is scenic or merely a journey through outdoor sales-pitches. Nature, many think, is being used as a "commercial."

OUR WOODS and templed hills are pretty well obscured by advertisements. The rocks and rills are running second and third to the hops and pills . . It is possible to make a day's trip through a scenic wonderland and wind up with merely a wealth of data on motor oils, beers, ointments and the inns where Washington once slept.

IN SOME PLACES the signs are so close together than a man traveling 50 miles per hour can't finish the motel ad before he is inside the detergent plug. Many a babbling brook is shut out by the babbling billboard. To revise the famed Bliss Carmen poem:

I love the stony pasture
Against the hillside green;
(They are so very lovely
I wish they could be seen.)

II

Its music is the rain-wind,
Its cloisters hold the birds . . .
(All hidden by the billboard
With many three-foot words.)

III

There in the early springtime
The violets are blue . . .
But hemmed in by the soup ads
And washing powders new.

IV

There bayberry and aster
Are summer blooms (I hear) . . .
Where grow the anti-acids
And every brand of beer.

V

And there October passes
In raiment quite divine—
In purple ash and red oak
(Behind some motel sign).

VI

And when the winter season
Its ermine doth display
Oh, would that liver-pill ad
Bow down and drift away!

IF SEN. McCLELLAN'S probe ever gets onto TV it could be called "The Uncovered Wagoneer."

Hollywood parties have barred a new young actress for overexposure . . . . (Ya mean there IS A LIMIT ! !). The charge is that she wears gowns that are backless and to some extent seatless. The way they dress out there how can you be sure?

New York meat cutters ended a short strike after winning a $7 per week raise. (They had a beef and made no bones about it.)

Not since the Titanic disaster have so many huge icebergs drifted so far south, ship captains report. Some big liners are crossing 40 to 50 miles to the south of long accepted lanes.

Spyros P. Skouras, head of Twentieth Century Fox, announced a plan for big spending to win back from TV the big audiences that once packed movie houses. Good luck, buster, but you are in a fight against the couch, the easy-chair, bedroom slippers and the natural inertia of the human race. The folks see little on their home screens that is better than Hollywood provides but it is entertainment delivered to the family fireside and if they don't like it they can switch to something else.

Then there is the story of the autoist who, after hitting two cars through weird driving, cried out to those getting bent fenders, "Aw, pipe down! I had the right of innocent passage."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — The Russian provincial government reportedly was considering the suggestion that the capital be moved from Petrograd to Moscow.

With the President's announcement that the Navy would be increased to wartime strength, Columbus Toledo, Cincinnati, Chillicothe, Dayton, Springfield and Lima were expected to furnish 1,000 of the 87,000 man quota.

The inclusion of military training in relation to physical development for students in the Marion schools was discussed at a meeting of a committee from the Chamber of Commerce composed of O. S. Rapp, George Whysall, Edward H. Cowan, George B. Knapp and H. A. Hartman, school superintendent, among others.

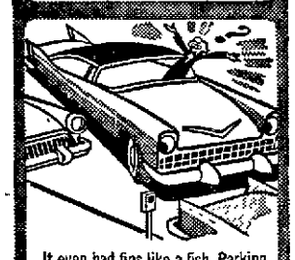
THE MAN WHO OWNED MOBY DICK

It was actually a too-big car. At gas pumps, it drank like a fish. So he called it "Moby Dick."



It even had fins like a fish. Parking it was like trying to squeeze a whale into a goldfish bowl.

He thought about trading "Moby" for an economical little foreign car. It was too little for 5 kids.

So he bought Rambler, only car with room for six 6-footers, plus European car economy, handling ease.

It was a Rambler "6" that set the NASCAR cross country record of 32 miles per gallon with overdrive.

Rambler's 1st in trade-in value among all low-priced cars, because it's the smartest buy; new or used.

Agency Assumes Vital Role After World War II

State Department Shapes U.S. Policy

Editor's Note: From a nation which avoided entangling foreign alliances, this country has reversed its field almost completely since World War II. Is this wise? Where is this policy taking us? They are important questions, explored in this first of three articles on the State Department.

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A general who was to become President of the United States once asked the secretary of foreign affairs: "What's going on in the world?"

"All I know," the secretary replied, "Is what I see in the newspapers."

The general was George Washington. The secretary was Robert Livingstone, who headed the Foreign Affairs Department of the second Continental Congress. The conversation occurred in 1782.

First of a Series

Seven years later, the United States came into being. The old Department of Foreign Affairs became the Department of State.

No longer can the State Department depend on newspapers alone for information. It has become one of the world's greatest information gathering machines. At the same time, it has become one of the world's greatest machines for developing foreign policy.

FOR A CENTURY and a half, right up to World War II, basic U. S. policy was to avoid foreign entanglements. In the years since the war, it has switched almost completely.

Are we wise in assuming so much of the world's burden? If we are, is our foreign policy well administered? These are questions which bring earnest arguments not only in Washington but throughout the country. The pros and cons are debated convincingly. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is conducting an inquiry which will go thoroughly into the whole matter in the light of commitments abroad.

Why, after 150 years, did our policy change so drastically?

Proponents say it is because World War II demonstrated rather conclusively that time and space can be shrunk by a fast bomber or missile; that no nation can exist as an island.

YET THERE are important segments of the Senate, which must approve all treaties, and of the population which hold that George Washington's advise to "steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world is valid today.

Beginning in 1940, the United States has moved steadily toward alliances. In 1946, alliances became the foundation of U.S. foreign policy.

Washington's advice went into the discard March 12, 1947, when Democratic President Truman appeared before Congress and asked for 400 million dollars to provide military and economic aid for Communist-threatened Greece and Turkey.

Truman re-emphasized U.S. determination to contain communism by committing U.S. troops to a three-year war in Korea.

IN RECENT years the Truman Doctrine, as it is known, has been variously advertised and packaged, but still apparently exists as the basis for foreign policy.

President Eisenhower, for example, asked Congress last Jan. 5 for 200 million dollars to provide military and economic aid to the Middle Eastern neighbors of Greece and Turkey, now regarded as securely in the anti-Communist camp.

Eisenhower also asked for congressional approval of the use of U.S. troops, if necessary, to stop any open Communist aggression in the Middle East.

AFTER EXTENSIVE debate, Congress approved both requests.

No man, however, is qualified to grasp all the world's complexities, and that is where the Department of State fits into the picture. The department develops recommendations and offers them to the President through the secretary, currently John Foster Dulles

Information flows into State's tan concrete building here 24 hours a day from the 79 nations in which the United States maintains embassies and legations.

To get this information, the department spends 75 million dollars a year, employs a staff of 22,039, including 10,000 aliens.

Every day at 8:45 a.m. this mass of world information forms the basis of a briefing session for Dulles and his assistant secretaries for the four major regions of the globe — Europe, Latin America, the Far East and Africa-Near East-South Asia.

OUT OF THESE meetings come major policy-making recommendations. These are not yet final, however. They have to be hammered out further within the National Security Council (NSC).

The NSC is composed of the President and vice president, the secretaries of state, treasury and defense, the director of defense mobilization and the President's disarmament adviser.

Dulles travels so widely that he is more intimately familiar with the world and its problems than any of his predecessors. He has to be since the United States has become involved in the economic and military life of 60 nations, to the tune of 57 billion dollars.

Harvard Humor Magazine Twits Top Screen Stars

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard University Lampoon, college humor magazine, today lampooned several movie stars for their 1956 acting performances.

The Lampoon "cited" Jennifer Jones and Gregory Peck for the worst acting performances in "The Man in the Grey Flannel Suit" and "Moby Dick," respectively.

It named Elvis Presley "the worst supporting actor in the world" for "Love Me Tender" and Anne Baxter as the "worst supporting actress in the world" for her performance in "The Ten Commandments."

Natalie Wood and Tab Hunter were named as "the most cloying example of adolescence."

The Lampoon said Rock Hudson's recovery in "All That Heaven Allows" was "the most thoroughly unsatisfying ending of a movie."

Anita Ekberg in "War and Peace" was termed by the magazine as "only Smorgasboard."

Officers said the victims were made to run barefooted on a gravel road near Hebron, Ohio, Saturday, crawl through a water-filled culvert, and run through the ditch.

Bid by France For U.S. Atom Weapons Due

Expected Request To Receive 'Sympathetic Consideration' by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—An expected request from France for guided missile armament similar to that promised Great Britain appeared likely today to get sympathetic consideration from President Eisenhower.

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said the possibility of transferring such missiles to France came up Monday at a White House meeting in which Eisenhower briefed congressional leaders on the Bermuda conference.

Must Adhere to Law

In Bermuda Eisenhower agreed with British Prime Minister Macmillan that the United States will furnish Britain guided missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads. The understanding is these warheads would be stored in Britain under American custody, since U S law now forbids the sharing of atomic weapons with this country's Allies.

Hennings said he gained the impression at Monday's conference that Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles expect Premier Mollet to propose similar arrangements affecting France.

Other sources said such a request probably would receive sympathetic consideration from Eisenhower as a means of bolstering the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defensive strength and of shoring up U.S. relations with its principal Allies.

Bridges Favors Move

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, one of the White House conferees, already has suggested publicly the transfer of such weapons to France. Bridges said he would approve giving guided missiles also to West Germany and other "real Allies."

Dulles was reported to have done most of the talking at Monday's White House meeting. Hennings said Eisenhower opened the session with the remark his voice was not strong enough yet for sustaining discussion

The President, who took a leisurely cruise to the Bermuda meeting to shake off a head cold and a cough, was reported looking fit. He did not cough during the conference, Hennings said.

'No Secret Agreements'

Bridges quoted Eisenhower and Dulles as saying emphatically there were no secret agreements at Bermuda. Several other conferees said they heard little at the session that went beyond the official communiques.

But informants in Bermuda said the meeting there ended in agreement on secret, wide-ranging policy directives on key world issues in Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

The directives were said to include orders for U.S.-British cooperation at all levels of government, coordination of future political planning and a pooling of intelligence, and united action toward reunification of Germany.

Cub Scout Notes

All Cub Scouts and leaders were dressed as Indians to carry out the theme for the month when Pack 29, sponsored by George Washington School PTA, met Thursday in the school gymnasium.

Dens 8 and 10 presented skits and all dens had displays of shields, drums and other Indian items made by the Cubs. Den 4 received the Cubby attendance award.

Patrol leader Ray Greiner of Boy Scout Troop 32 accepted Tom Conley and Dick Johnson into the troop after they received their Cub Scout graduation certificates. Welcomed into the pack as new members were David Lord and Roger Craven. An overnight outing was announced for fathers and sons at Camp Owens on May 18.

Council Okays Street Projects At High School

Resolutions Declare Seminole, Mandana Work Is Necessary

Long proposed improvements for Seminole and Mandana avenues around Harding High School were placed a step nearer reality by action of City Council at its meeting Monday night in City Hall.

Resolutions declaring both improvements necessary were adopted by 9-0 votes of council after brief discussion relating mainly to council's concern over whether or not sufficient funds are available to pay the city's share of the cost.

Estimates Read

Council President Don Quaintance read estimates of the cost of both projects prepared by the city engineering department.

Improvements of the two streets and a small section of Willow St. with curbs, gutters, regrading in some spots and resurfacing will total $52,250 with the city's share of the cost amounting to $7,220. The rest of the cost would be split with the school board paying $28,049 and the other property owners a total of $17,981, the engineer estimated.

John Courtright Jr., councilman-at-large, asked where the city's share of the cost would come from. R. G. Haldeman, finance committee chairman, said it would come out of the general fund and in answer to a further question of Mr. Courtright said it would not overexpend existing city funds.

May Start in June

Ralph Williams, streets and alleys committee chairman, said the proposed improvements had been kicked around long enough and his committee recommended they be approved. He also asked Solicitor Riley Hall how long it would take before the projects legally could be started. Mr. Hall said it would require six to eight weeks to get legal paper work completed and bids advertised and opened. He estimated construction could start in June at the latest.

City Engineer John Ruth said his department hoped the project could be started after school vacation starts and completed before school reopens in the fall.

Fast Time

Ave., also representing the Central Labor Union, added that establishment of fast time would make it more difficult to get children to go to bed on time because of the extra hour of daylight in the evenings.

Walter Justice of 408 Fies Ave., also representing the Central Labor Union, said he felt it would work a hardship on all shop workers.

Council gave the matter no further consideration, indicating it will be given a second reading at the next regular meeting of council on April 8.

Dispatcher Gives Quick Attention to Fire Alarm

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—Fireman Marvin Strop calmly took a fire alarm call from an excited woman.

He quickly sounded the alarm for the fire truck dash to 1236 8th St. Then he recognized the address.

"Hey!" he exclaimed. "That's my house."

The voice on the telephone had been his wife's.

Strop and other firemen handled the emergency quickly. It was a burning pan of grease. The only damage was from smoke.

Invokes Fifth Amendment

Senate caucus room, scene of many other famous Senate hearings in the past. Hundreds of others queued up outside, hoping for a chance to get in.

Wherever the chance appeared, Beck pulled the name of former Sen. James Duff (R-Pa) into his replies to committee questions. Repeatedly, Beck told the senators he was acting on advice of Duff, his chief counsel who did not, however, attend the hearing.

Explains Position

In explanation of his position, Beck said at one point:

"When I go to the hospital and hire a doctor I intend to follow that doctor's advice; when I hire a lawyer I intend to follow his advice."

Duff has taken the position that he should not, as a recent former senator, appear before his colleagues in behalf of Beck although advising him outside the hearing. Two members of Duff's law firm were with Beck.

Beck's numerous references to Duff seemed to irritate the senators.

At one point, McClellan told Beck :"we're not charging anything against Senator Duff."

And, at another of Beck's references to his advice from Duff, McClellan said in acid tones:

"I believe the record reflects that—that you've said it a number of times."

Praises Tax Issue

Beck, when invoking his constitutional protections, said among other things he had been advised he might be charged with violating the income tax laws.

Beck said "I certainly do not intend to resign" as a sequel to his invoking of the Fifth Amendment.

He said he felt bound "by the international law of the international union" and not by the AFL-CIO code. That code calls for the removal of any official of a subordinate union who invokes the Fifth Amendment to avoid testifying about alleged wrongdoing before congressional or other authorized inquiries.

Further, Beck told reporters before the hearing began that he intends to run next fall for another term as the $50,000-a-year head of the teamsters.

Consults With Condon

Arthur Condon, one of Beck's lawyers, sat immediately to the union chief's right and was in frequent whispered conference with Beck as the senators hammered away with questions.

Frequently in declining to answer, Beck would whisper with Condon for a moment, relate a part of his answer to the immediate subject matter and then read from a written memorandum lying in front of him

The material he read came out every time in the same terms, questioning the jurisdiction of the committee and claiming violation of Beck's constitutional rights.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) suggested to Beck that his actions and the position he was taking might reflect on 15 million union members across the nation.

Inviting Anti-Union Laws

McNamara, who has broad union support in Michigan but was opposed in his election by Beck's teamsters, said Beck was "inviting" union-repressive legislation.

Beck said he was doing no such thing, but was only defending his own constitutional rights.

Beck got Duff's name in again at that point and McNamara told him: "I want you to know I am not at all impressed by the fact that your counsel is former Sen Duff."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) told Beck in one exchange that he appeared to be trying to lay the responsibility for his position on Duff.

Beck retorted that if Duff had given him advice that violated ethics, "it is the duty of the American Bar Association to see about disbarring Mr Duff."

With a grin, Beck suggested at one point: "let's don't put Senator Duff on trial here."

Questions Obligation

McClellan said Beck's argument seemed to be that he regarded privileges under the Fifth Amendment as "transcending any duty or obligation you owe to your union."

Beck said he meant that rights of any citizen under the Constitution took precedence over other obligations.

Then he declined to answer when McClellan asked whether "you take the position" that rights under the Fifth Amendment to refuse to answer questions about evidence indicating "your misappropriation or misuse" of union funds "transcends your duty and obligation to laboring men."

"I'd like to answer this way," Beck said after a long conference with his counsel:

"There are legal rights involved in answering that question. And in taking advantage of any amendment I'm doing so with the 100 per cent advice of my chief counsel, Sen. Duff," and other attorneys.

In addition to invoking the Fifth Amendment, Beck told the committee its investigation of his and Teamsters Union affairs violated the First, Second and Third amendments.

He said his rights under the Fourth Amendment also were infringed.

The First Amendment sets up the powers of Congress. The Second defines the powers of the executive branch of government, the Third deals with judicial powers.

The Fourth Amendment regulates the right of search and seizure.

McClellan's assertion that it appeared Beck "may have misappropriated $320,000" of union funds was at the outset of the hearing.

McClellan did not spell out at once how he had arrived at the $320,000 figure. Beck had said he "borrowed" $300,000 to $400,000 of union funds, interest free and without security, but repaid it. The committee had explored evidence that $270,000 of "loans" were repaid to the union by Beck in 1954, although the union's books did not indicate the union was aware the loans had been made.

Plans To Seek Re-election

Beck was asked by newsmen before the hearing whether he intends to run for another five-year term as the union's president at the union's convention at Miami Beach, Fla., next September. He said he did.

Asked whether he expected any opposition, Beck said: "I'm not concerned about that."

Beck sat without apparent emotion at the witness stand, not yet sworn to testify, as McClellan in stern words read a statement in the jam-packed Senate caucus room

Television cameras of WTOP were carrying the proceedings "live" in Washington.

Reads Letter

Once sworn, Beck read a letter he had sent to McClellan Monday In this, he challenged the jurisdiction of the committee and said he would not "waive or imply the waiver" of any constitutional privileges.

Beck also had what he described as a "very long statement," and said he would like to have his counsel read it for him

"Well, let's see now," said McClellan. "You're the witness."

McClellan went on to ask Beck whether he was challenging the jurisdiction of the committee.

"Yes," Beck said

McClellan said the challenge was under articles one, two and three of the Constitution McClellan said he was overruling the challenge.

McClellan then asked Beck if he had brought his personal financial records as requested by the committee.

McClellan asked whether Beck was prepared to deliver the records to the committee.

"No, Mr. Chairman, I am not prepared to release the records," Beck replied

McClellan directed then that a formal subpoena be served on Beck, demanding the records

Beck, upon arriving at the hearing room, had told newsmen that "I have not a thing in the world to hide"

With Beck were two lawyers, Arthur Condon and David Fuss.

An overflow crowd turned out for the inquiry.

The committee also has ordered him to turn over for its scrutiny his personal financial records which might shed light on his dealings.

their first hot meal since Sunday night The passengers said they had had only coffee and crackers until their rescue Monday night There was no heat aboard the train.

2 Suffer Heart Attacks

Two of the passengers suffered heart attacks. Only a diabetic was reported in serious condition She had run out of insulin. Most passengers were just hungry and tired.

Another 215 aboard the westbound City of St.Louis, snowbound near Winona, Kan., were removed to Oakley, Kan., by the Union Pacific.

Before their rescue, some food and necessities were air-dropped. A doctor, brought through by a National Guard snow tractor Sunday, ministered 25 passengers aboard the Golden State Limited for carbon monoxide poisoning.

George A. Vrlakas, Roberta, Calif., a passenger aboard the City of St.Louis, was flown into Oakley by helicopter for insulin shots.

2 Others Flown Out

Flown out to Liberal, Kan., the same way from the Rock Island train were Mr and Mrs. Edward Tubbs of South Bend, Ind. Tubbs has a heart ailment and the emergency rescue was ordered by the doctor.

Other passenger trains were delayed in the storm area Included were the Santa Fe's eastbound Grand Canyon Limited at Deerfield, West of Garden City, Kan; its westbound Chief at Garden City, and several other Santa Fe schedules at Newton, Kan. One of these was the westbound El Captan which left Chicago Saturday.

Others Also Held Up

Also held up in Kansas, waiting for tracks to clear were east and westbound sections of the Missouri Pacific's Colorado Eagle. Four more Rock Island trains were held at Pratt, Kan.

More than 200 passengers aboard 20 buses were stranded on routes out of Kansas City.

Greyhound, Continental Trailways and Crown Bus lines said all were well cared for.

The storm weakened as it moved eastward through the Ohio Valley during the night, but left a belt of snow from eastern sections of Iowa and Missouri across the southern Great Lakes region into western Pennsylvania and southern New York.

Snow depths ranged from an inch in southern New York and the lower Great Lakes to 2 to 3 inches in extreme northern Indiana and 2 to 6 inches in northern Illinois.

A narrow band of snow mixed with rain or sleet fell south of the snow belt. Snow was expected to continue along the southern Great Lakes, spreading eastward as snow or snow and rain across Pennsylvania and New York

More snow, from 1 to 5 inches, was indicated in Southern Michigan and extreme northern Indiana.

Teamwork by Navy Helps Surgery Patient

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An entire squadron of Navy destroyer escorts participated in making an emergency appendectomy in rough weather at sea a success

Several contributed hospital corpsmen to assist. The USS Spangler sent two cans of ether. Other ships helped with equipment All, including the men, were transferred by line to the USS Alvin C Cockrell.

The surgery was performed by Lt. Demetreos Halikis, medical officer, sent by boat from the USS George.

William R. Brown, member of the Cockrell crew, was the patient He and all others got a "well done" for success of the operation.

DOBBIN STAYED HOME

APPLETON, Ont. (AP) — When the weather hit a record of 40 below zero in this Ottawa Valley village irate car-drivers repeated the old saw about cold never stopping the horse and buggy. But James Dowdall, 71-year-old postmaster, drove to Carleton Place in his son's new car instead of using the horse he has driven for 21 years "Too cold today for old Daisy, and for me," he said.

Suspect Signs Confession in Slaying Probe

Lawson Waits Return To St. Louis for Trial On Murder Charges

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis authorities said Jackie Ray Lawson will be returned here later today or Wednesday to face charges in the slaying of his pretty divorcee friend, found strangled in Columbus, Ohio

Police at Columbus said the 27-year-old Lawson admitted Monday night that he killed Mrs Credia M. Mallady, 29 in her St. Louis apartment and kept her body in the trunk of his car for a week before dumping it in a creek near Columbus.

Temporary Warrant

Lawson, who was employed with Mrs. Mallady at McDonnell Aircraft Corp. here at the time of the slaying, was charged with manslaughter in a temporary warrant issued here.

Henry Fredericks, assistant circuit attorney, said the warrant was issued merely as a means of returning Lawson to St. Louis and that a grand jury would determine the precise charge on which he will stand trial.

Fredericks said he had been notified that Lawson expressed willingness to waive extradition.

Lawson was quoted by Columbus police as saying he slugged Mrs. Mallady with a bottle and then strangled her with a clothes line after she threatened him with a butcher knife in a fit of jealousy. The argument developed, he said, when he told her he was returning to his wife and child in Columbus.

Inspect Apartment

Police Monday inspected Mrs. Mallady's apartment here and reported finding bloodstains in the kitchen and bathroom and a blood-soaked mop.

Authorities here were advised that a signed statement by Lawson, the text of which was not disclosed, is being sent here.

Undergoes Tests

Lawson, who earlier was described as "cold and cocky" by officers, made his statement after undergoing he detector tests and a full day of questioning. Franklin County Sheriff Ralph J. Paul, Prosecutor Samuel Devine and Sheriff's Lt. Ellsworth Beck witnessed Lawson's statement

The lean, bookish - appearing Lawson gave this account of the slaying, police said:

Both he and Mrs. Mallady came from Logan, W. Va., and he had known her for about four years. He found her in St. Louis in late January while he was there looking for a job. They began living together as "man and wife"

On the afternoon of Feb. 26, as Mrs. Mallady was ready to leave for work at a St. Louis aircraft plant, Lawson told her he was leaving for Columbus immediately "to return to his wife."

Mrs. Mallady did not believe Lawson was married and told him "you're not going to leave."

Blocks Door

She blocked the kitchen door. Lawson said he told her to move, but she refused and picked up a butcher knife. She threatened him and he lunged at her.

Lawson struck her, knocked her to the floor, then jumped on her. He subdued her, knocked the knife from her hand then grabbed a bottle and struck her on the head twice. While she was still "moaning" he took two strands of clothesline and wrapped them around her neck three times. He left her on the kitchen floor after stuffing a kitchen towel into her mouth

Lawson remained in the apartment until late evening and then left He returned early the next morning Several hours later he bundled her body up and left for Columbus

He arrived here the next day, but drove around with the body in the trunk of his car until March 5 before disposing of it in the creek.

Informs Wife

After making his statement to authorities, Lawson, at his own request, told the story to his wife, Geraldeen, 20, Columbus

Lawson's story apparently fit in with evidence Columbus and St. Louis authorities found after investigating Mrs Lawson's apartment They reported finding blood in several places and clothesline similar to the type wrapped around the victim's throat

Deputies from here, however, say they are still doubtful about the time of the slaying. They said they believed Mrs. Mallady was killed on Feb 24. To substantiate their claim, they said some blood-covered newspapers dated Feb. 23 were found, and a scream was heard on the 24th by a neighbor.

Paul and Devine said Lawson will be turned over to St Louis authorities for prosecution.

Speak at Luncheon Meeting

School Administrators Explain Duties to Lions

The work of the various administrative officials in the Marion city schools was explained by those men at the Marion Lions Club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding.

Speakers included Robert S. Brown, city school superintendent; Joseph G. Whisler, director of pupil personnel; Norman W. Fogt, director of public relations and research; Charles M. Clark, director of child study and guidance, and Cecil W. Gabler, assistant to the superintendent.

MR. WHISLER explained his main duties include watching over school attendance, work with indigent families, handling working certificates for students 14-17 years of age, working with the hard of hearing and sight-saving classes In addition, he explained, he helps to set up school boundaries.

Supplying news releases of activities and important matters concerning the schools to the newspaper and radio station was outlined as his main duty by Mr. Fogt He also is in charge of grade card inserts, such as information on reading programs or the kindergarten, and of a general report of the school system due at the end of the school year.

Locating children who have problems, diagnosing and treating these problems to the extent the school can is the work of Mr. Clark. Such determinations are made by means of test programs and also through the teachers. Mr. Clark also explained he works also with the vocational guidance program in the schools.

MR. GABLER told the Lions members his work is with the coordination of the school program. He deals with improvement of instruction under which comes on the - job training for teachers through workshops, orientation of new teachers and professional consultation with experts.

Mr. Gabler reported he is in charge of publishing guides for instruction, recommending text books and visual aids and studying special instructional problems such as classes for the gifted child.

He discussed reading improvement classes and explained that such a class is to be instituted in the junior high schools next year.

In his talk, Mr Brown recommended the reading of an article in the March 15 issue of "U.S. News" entitled "Back to the 3 Rs" He expressed appreciation for the help and cooperation of the Board of Education. The city schools, he said, have 409 full-time employes and added the number of pupils is expected to increase about 200 next year. It is expected, he said, the city will need more schools in the northern section of town.

MR. BROWN discussed the summer kindergarten program which is proposed in Marion this summer for an eight-week period. Parents of nearly 60 per cent of next year's first grade pupils have expressed a desire for their sons or daughters to attend the kindergarten. He added the schools hope to run a test next December to show the difference in the kindergarten pupils and the non-kindergarten ones.

He explained the possibility of Ohio State University having a branch school in Marion next year through which college people can take the first two years of college He added it is awaiting the approval of the OSU board.

Mr. Brown extended an invitation to parents and citizens to visit the schools at any time

Program chairman for the day was Robert Middleton

Announcement was made of a Lions sub-district convention to be held April 6-7 in Fremont Jack Saunders, a guest, gave a report on the progress of the community swimming pool drive and urged the support of all members of the club city department so it could do the designing," he said.

Guests were introduced by Richard Probst They included Frank Summy of Akron, Manny Mathews of Shelby and Mr. Saunders.

Solicitor Riley Hall said the section could be deleted without changing the intent of the resolution of necessity.

Robert G. Haldeman, councilman-at-large, said that it was his understanding that the sanitary engineer would be used as a resident engineer on the Indiana Ave and Forest Lawn Blvd projects and would have little time for designing of additional projects until this project is completed

Herman Rinehart, Third Ward Councilman and sewer committee chairman, said, "We were told the other night that by the time the east end job is done, plans could be reached by the engineering department for the other projects."

Ruth Replies

City Engineer John V. Ruth said that he had said that it would take his department three to six months to get the plans for the three additional projects prepared and that it could not start on them for at least three months.

Mr. Haldeman said that he also understood that the city administration had asked that council delay the three additional projects until the Indiana Ave -Forest Lawn Blvd. projects are completed. Mayor Ireland said this was true.

The Indiana Ave. and Forest Lawn Blvd. projects are scheduled for completion by Sept. 8.

In the discussion on the ordinance to pay the sanitary engineer and the two inspectors from the project funds for the Indiana Ave, and Forest Lawn Blvd sewers, Mayor Ireland said he felt such a move would limit the usefulness of the engineer to the city. He explained that under such an ordinance the man could not be paid if inclement weather delayed work on the project a few days and could not be paid for working on designs of additional sewers.

Council President Don Quaintance said apparently council had only two alternatives, either adopt the proposed ordinance or appropriate additional funds from the general fund to pay the salaries.

City Auditor Elmer Shaw said there are no other funds with which to pay the three new employes.

Councilman John Courtright Jr said "We can't pay them from the general fund because we don't have the money there."

Mr Haldeman said he saw no reason to debate this point He said he saw no reason why the sanitary engineer couldn't be used for a day or two on other projects if inclement weather should delay the Indiana Ave. and Forest Lawn Blvd. work

Mayor Ireland had expressed concern that such an event might mean it would be necessary to lay off the three new employes if they could not be paid from any other fund. City Engineer John Ruth said they could be paid from special assessment funds during such times.

Mr Haldeman said the sanitary engineer would be paid a monthly salary and would get no more or less if he had to workk 18 hours one day and none the next.

New City Manager

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Earl P. Wagner, 39, city manager of Negaunee, Mich., Monday was named city manager of nearby Fairborn, effective May 1, at a salary of $8,500 a year He succeeds C Randolph Lukens, who resigned last month.

Code

ney general but "that doesn't make them right."

—:—

HAROLD SMITH, a member of the utilities committee, said that the committee had studied through the code item by item in weekly meetings held over a one-year period. He said that the committee was satisfied with the national code and felt such a code is needed for Marion.

Ralph Williams, Fourth Ward, asked if the property owner would have any recourse if the building inspector refused to approve an improvement.

Mr Lister said the code provides for a board of appeals and if this board rules in favor of the inspector over the property owner, the property owner could appeal to the courts

Mr Lister also pointed out the proposed code is a performance code only and would not prevent the property owner from doing his own work as long as it met the minimum requirements of the code.

R G Haldeman, councilman-at-large, asked if the code provided for any inspection fee

Mr. Lister said it would and that the experience of other communities has been that the fees cover the cost of administration and a surplus can be gained if there also is licensing He said his committee does not recommend licensing because it felt the city should not try to make money from the code, but only take in enough from fees to pay for administration of it.

Discussion ended with adoption of a motion to refer it to the mayor for consideration and a report of his opinion and recommendation concerning adoption of the code.

side of the warehouse when he entered the warehouse to get a soft drink.

According to testimony he then returned to the office and telephoned police, but received no answer. It was then, he said, that he heard wood splitting and decided to leave the building.

Mr. Warwick stated that he left by the front door of the office, proceeded to an alley and walked east in the alley. He said at that time he noticed a person crawling through a hole made in the door on which he had heard the pounding noise.

He said he continued to the Brunswick Cafe at 143 N. Main St. where he again called police

During cross examination by Mrs Virginia Weiss, defense counsel, Mr. Warwick said he would not be able to identify the man he observed crawling from the hole.

Alspach Testifies

Patrolman Alspach, who was working the 3 p.m. - 11 p.m. trick with Patrolman Gayle Rollison, said he arrived on the scene shortly after 10 p.m. and was met by Patrolman John Johnston who had arrived moments earlier with Patrolman Marshall Wilds.

After the warehouse had been surrounded, Patrolman Alspach said he heard Patrolman Wilds shout: "Halt, halt," from the south side of the building.

Patrolman Alspach then related how he pursued the subject through alleys and across a lot until they reached a row of apartments at the rear of the Sutton & Lightner store on S Prospect St. During this time the patrolman said, he was fired at twice and also shot twice at the fleeing suspect

Search Roofs

Reaching the apartments, Patrolmen Alspach and Johnston began searching roofs for the suspect Patrolman Alspach testified he walked up a flight of stairs to the roof of the third apartment, and proceeded up three more steps when he heard a noise behind him

He said he whirled around and saw the suspect in the glare of his flashlight Patrolman Alspach said the suspect started to draw a gun from a coat pocket and that he then fired four rapid shots into the suspect.

Meanwhile, Patrolman Wilds had been wounded in the upper left chest at the outset of the chase with one of the first two shots fired by the suspect

Reuther Gets Set

By Victor Riesel

Dave Beck, labor's first tycoon, rapidly is talking himself into being 1957's man of indistinction. In golden age, that is his privilege.

VICTOR RIESEL

But he is overpaying his advisers if they are not trying to persuade him to stop shouting at us as though we all are idiots all of the time.

Beck has always brazened things out with a barking speech. There was a moment, for example, back in November 1948, about the time he first began borrowing union funds. Quixotically he got off this speech to the National Automotive Division of the Teamsters Union, in Chicago:

"I have never believed in the building of large union treasuries. . . Men and women do not pay dues into large organizations for the purpose of building large treasuries. . . I say that a member of any of our unions is far better off if he is receiving 10 cents a day more in wages even though the union may not have a cent in its treasury than if he were getting 10 cents a day less in wages and the union had a million dollars in its treasury.

"THAT IS MY philosophy. . . On some occasions I have said to secretaries that if they have large treasuries and could not do any further organizing, their dues are too high. I have suggested that they go before their membership and recommend a reduction in dues."

Maybe. But just four years later, when Beck took over the national union presidency, he loudly announced that he would build the teamsters' kitty into 60 million dollars because it was rattling around in the safe with a mere $25,126,864. He was president just a few days when he forced through a dues increase.

And on the air the other Sunday he boasted that he had made over $9,000,000 for the union. But what of the working man? What does the man behind the wheels get out of the 40 million dollars now on the teamsters' bank books.

To some men money is the measure of everything. Forty million bucks would stretch any man's ego but Beck's.

This poor man's Fort Knox is quite a responsibility. There should be no question of Beck's willingness to show every bit of scrap paper even remotely related to the personal and official activities of the man who has all power over such a hoard.

Yet we have been getting the same kind of brazen bullying and barking as the quotes above, which always place everything he does in double jabberwocky. The teamsters under Beck seem to be accident prone.

UNION RECORDS covering many millions of dollars have been burned, lost or stolen. It shamed some of us, however, to lose le beau geste to a couple of crooks in Scranton, Pa., the other day.

With a sudden burst of civic pride, the thieves broke into the headquarters of Teamsters Local 229. They stole everything except the union books. That's a new twist.

Yet Beck, with the power and the duty as absolute as that power, to lift charters, suspend officials and make audits, has done mighty little of this to check on those millions.

So appalled by this are the honest men of labor that one of the nation's top handful of AFL-CIO executive council members told me the other day that he would be ashamed to walk his city's streets if the high command had not anticipated all of this by adopting the new ethical codes in Miami Beach last month.

These codes call for the ouster of any official hiding his union activity behind the Fifth Amendment—and that includes even teamsters' officials.

A group is forming behind Walter Reuther for just such a battle when the high command meets in Washington next May. Reuther has received written requests from former CIO chiefs to make such a fight.

REUTHER NEVER moves without battle plans. And he has already placed himself in position for the assault. After Sen. Joe McCarthy attacked the auto union, Reuther dispatched a long letter to Sen. John McClellan which wound up with:

"This letter is to assure you, if assurance is needed, that if the committee finds any reason or has any desire to check the affairs of the UAW and its officers, you will have our fullest cooperation. Any, or all of our officers will appear before the committee voluntarily and answer all questions, as fully as their knowledge permits. None of them will invoke the Fifth Amendment."

That's the first move.

Heating Oil Price Cut

CLEVELAND (AP)—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio has cut the price of its distillate heating oils one-half a cent a gallon. Samuel H. Elliott, vice president in charge of marketing, said the cut, announced today, was made possible by adequate supplies in storage and capacity production by refiners. He said the decrease brings Sohio's price to that prevailing before a general rise in crude oil prices in January.

Social Security Exemption Is Requested by Amish Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amish farmers in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana are asking their congressmen to help them be excused from paying a social security tax.

"It's a religious conviction," an aide to Rep. Bow (R-Ohio), whose district includes many Amish, said today. "The old order of Amish do not believe in insurance of any kind.

"In fact, some of them have refused to pay their social security for this reason, and have had the money confiscated by the government."

Social security for farmers generally is relatively new. It was passed into law after the Eisenhower Administration took over in 1953.

Now the Amish want a law exempting them from this, and both Reps. Dague (R-Pa) and Bow have introduced bills that would permit it.

Dague's bill would apply just to the Amish, but Bow's would make participation in social security by any farmer purely optional.

As for the non-Amish Ohio farmers, a Bow aide said many are complaining about the rule that they can't earn more than $1,200 a year and still receive benefits after 65.

"Also," he said, "there are the young farmers. They're a whole lot more worried about keeping solvent than about retiring in 40 years."

Bow's office, he said, is trying to "get up some steam" to get action on the bill. But he said that administration policy on social security payments is: "no exceptions."

Rules on Referendum

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A referendum on amendments to township zoning regulations must cover the entire referendum, not just sections of it, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled Monday in an opinion sent to John W. Ballard, Summit County prosecutor.

Jury Indicts Trio For Dairy Holdup

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Two Kentucky men and a Cincinnatian have been indicted on armed robbery and abduction charges stemming from a dairy holdup here that netted $9,000.

The Butler County grand jury Monday returned indictments against Frank Sumpter, 31, Newport, Ky.; Curtis Allen, Covington, Ky., and Gene Mischke of Cincinnati.

Allen is still sought by authorities. Sumpter is in county jail and officials plan to return Mischke here from Topeka, Kan., where he was arrested last week.

Raymond L. White, 33, Middletown, accused of holding dairy manager Harold Dallman's wife prisoner, pleaded guilty to robbery charges last week. He was sentenced to indeterminate penitentiary terms.

Abba Eban Claims Gulf Of Aqaba To Stay Open

NEW YORK (AP)—Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban said Monday night the Gulf of Aqaba will remain open to international shipping "forever."

He said the gulf will stay open "whether it be through the concerted efforts of the world's maritime nations or . . . by Israel's exercise of its inherent right to protect its shipping."

Eban spoke at a dinner he gave honoring Israel Rogosin, an American industrialist. Rogosin said recently he is investing six million dollars in a new rayon plant in Israel.

House 2,000 Years Old Unearthed in Oklahoma

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—A house estimated by a University of Oklahoma archaeologist to be nearly 2,000 years old, has been unearthed on an Arkansas River bank near this eastern Oklahoma city.

Dr. James B. Shaeffer said the house—complete with a fireplace, roof poles and watershed — was built about 2,000 years ago. Weapons and implements found on the house site helped place the age, he said.

Blast Damages Home

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A house was damaged here Monday by an explosion resulting from a surge of gas which fire department officials blamed on a defective regulator on a gas main. No one was injured. An Ohio Fuel Gas Co. spokesman said something held the regulator valve open, sending a surge of gas through the main.

Mrs. Robert Liebnau said the gas heater and kitchen range in her home suddenly gave out a roar and shot flame. She said she grabbed her two children and left the house just before an explosion that damaged a side door and broke several windows.

Mass Transit Bus Licenses Slated for Cut

Relief Action Is Due In Assembly; School Chief's Salary Is Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — City mass-transit companies likely will get a financial shot in the arm today from the Ohio Senate.

The Senate appeared ready to pass a House-approved bill which would cut the license fees for mass-transit buses from a top of $360 a year to $10.

Both houses of the Legislature have been told mass-transit firms are in financial trouble. The transit firms contend the difference between the high license fees and the low ones—$10 is the fee paid by the average motorist for his car—is the difference between losing money and breaking even.

The Ohio Legislature opened its 12th work week Monday night—according to authorities the halfway mark of the 102nd General Assembly.

$25,000 for Holt

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to set the salary of the state superintendent of public instruction at $25,000 a year. The bill carries an emergency clause which would make it effective as soon as it is approved by the House and signed by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The Legislature, through the salary bill, is trying to correct an error of the 1955 General Assembly.

The Legislature two years ago delegated to the State Board of Education authority to set the superintendent's salary. But legal advisers said only the Legislature can do that.

E. E. Holt, head of the Springfield school system and superintendent-designate of Ohio schools, is waiting for the Legislature to act on the salary bill before he signs his state contract.

Had Been Key Issue

The constitutional question of whether the Legislature or the State Board of Education should set the superintendent's salary was one of the issues which caused Harold S. Vincent, head of Milwaukee schools, to ask to be excused from the contract he had signed with the State Board of Education. The other was the question of whether the superintendent - designate must be a "qualified elector" in Ohio.

Meanwhile, there were these two developments on the legislative-highway front.

1. Gov. O'Neill huddled with legislative leaders and asked the House to speed a bill which would permit his highway director to hire outside help in buying highway rights-of-way. The Senate already has approved the bill.

2. Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) demanded equal television time for his party to answer remarks on Gov. O'Neill's television appearance Sunday. Bartunek said O'Neill's appearance had a political tinge. Bartunek suggested to an official of an Ohio TV (WLW) network that perhaps a Democratic spokesman could alternate with Republican Gov. O'Neill, "thereby keeping the picture balanced."

NAVY PRESENTS ITS LATEST GUIDED MISSILE. Pictured for the first time is the Navy's new air-to-air guided missile, the Raytheon Sparrow III, shown here mounted under the wing of a fighter plane at Waltham, Mass. It will augment the Sparrow I missile which is now in operational use with the United States fleet. Most advanced of its kind, the Sparrow III is intended for extensive use by the Fleet Air Defense.

Escaped Murderer Is Back at Prison Farm

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Aaron Harry Gordon, 54, an escaped murderer, is back in London Prison Farm today after living in Houston as a model citizen for 10 years.

Prison authorities said Gordon escaped in 1947. He served 16 years of a life sentence for the 1931 slaying of a woman friend of his first wife. The victim surprised him while he was burglarizing her apartment, police said. Gordon would have been eligible for parole six years ago.

FBI agents arrested Gordon in Houston March 15. He had no police record there and his wife, whom he married in Houston, knew nothing of his time in prison.

Woman Lawyer Loses Television Quiz Show Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Vivienne Nearing lost her new television quiz show crown to a New York man Monday night on NBC's Twenty-One.

Hank Bloomgarden, 28-year-old administrative consultant in medical research, defeated Mrs. Nearing on a question about island cities. Two weeks ago she had topped Columbia University instructor Charles Van Doren. He had won the largest fortune of any contestant in a single quiz show — $129,000.

Bloomgarden took the crown when Mrs. Nearing, a lawyer, failed to place Santa Cruz de Tenerife in the Canary Islands.

Bloomgarden won $10,500 of the $16,000 she had earned. She was left with $5,500. Bloomgarden went on to defeat Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, 76, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., president emeritus of Vassar College, and now has $21,000 to his credit.

The morning session will convene at 10 o'clock and at noon there will be a covered dish dinner. The afternoon session is scheduled to open at 1 p.m.

World War I Vet Total Drops Below 3 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of living World War I veterans has dropped below three million, the Veterans Administration said today.

VA estimated the figure will be about 2,995,000 by the end of March.

It said 4,744,000 served in World War I, with about 131,000 dying in service during the conflict. About 1,613,000 have died since the end of the war.

The average age of the living World War I veterans is slightly under 63. About 90,000 of them are dying yearly.

Based on actuarial tables, VA said a few veterans of that war are expected to be alive in the year 2010.

Tax Trial Opens

CINCINNATI (AP)—Floyd L. and Gertrude Ross, lumber dealers of Excello, Ohio, charged with evading $59,000 in income taxes, went on trial Monday in U. S. district court.

They are accused of paying $13,000 tax on income of $58,000 in 1950 - 1953, while they should have paid $73,000 tax on income of $177,000.

Radio and Television

By MARIE TORRE

Nanette Fabray Takes the Stand

Marie Torre is on vacation. Today Nanette Fabray answers questions about her television career.

Any regrets since leaving Sid Caesar?

I have no regrets about leaving "Caesar's Hour" except one. I miss Sid and the rest of the company.

Would you consider professional remarriage?

Why not? If the right guy came along, that is! I'd be a fool to make any negative statement about professional remarriage since I've already had one such happy experience.

Do you miss weekly TV?

Not at all, although I am involved in a new TV film series for the fall, a situation comedy which will be produced for NBC by Jess Oppenheimer. My role is that of the owner of a flower shop. We're making the pilot film now in Hollywood, and my fingers are crossed.

OTHER THAN THAT, I'd like to work in all media of entertainment like Frank Sinatra; do a movie if the right one comes along, a Broadway musical, occasional night club appearances, and special TV shows, like the one I'm doing for "Kaiser Aluminum Hour" (April 23) called "A Man's Game."

Do you often watch "Caesar's Hour?"

I'm one of the show's biggest fans.

Is your income greater as a free lancer than it was as Caesar's TV mate?

With taxes being what they are, what difference does it make? Incidentally, I'd like to point out that I had no salary differences with Caesar. In fact, a sum had been agreed upon by both of us at the time my contract was being negotiated, and that was not a part of our difficulties. We both agreed to keep the real reasons behind the split our own private matter.

YOU RECENTLY publicly acknowledged you were in a hospital for nine months during 1954 because of personal difficulties. Do you feel your problems were related to a childhood spent in show business?

My childhood background in show business may have contributed toward my need for psychiatric help, but I don't think it was chiefly responsible for my mental attitude. My reason for revealing I was in an institution directly before joining Sid Caesar—I remember at the time I told Sid I wasn't sure I could even face an audience again—was not to get sympathy. I wanted to help in what Dr. Salk recently said is a major problem today. I just wanted to do my part in making the public aware of the situation.

Would you encourage your own children, if you had any, to become show people?

I WOULD NOT WANT my children to compete professionally in an adult world. If they had talent in any field, I would do everything to encourage them to be whatever they want to be. When they are mature enough to make their own decision, and if their decision is to go into show business, I would do everything I could to help them.

Who is the man in your life?

He's Ronald MacDougall, a motion picture-writer-director, who just completed writing and directing Bing Crosby's new picture, "Man on Fire," for MGM.

Are you going to marry him?

Well, doesn't every girl marry the man in her life—or, at least hope to?

Ashtabula County Prosecutor Faces Quiz by Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ashtabula County's reported 50-50 win-loss record in prosecutions comes under the personal scrutiny today of Gov. C. William O'Neill.

O'Neill plans to talk with Calvin W. Hutchins, Ashtabula County prosecutor, about prosecution failures described in a series of articles by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The newspaper said the county has lost as many cases as it has won, and that it follows an out-of-court compromise policy in criminal cases.

Two alleged traffic killers have been waiting trial since Aug. 1, 1955, the Plain Dealer said.

Hutchins replied one case was held up because a private lawsuit against the defendant is still pending.

The Plain Dealer said Common Pleas Judge Hugh Hewitt ordered other cases dismissed on Hutchins' recommendation. Among the reasons given for dismissal, the newspaper said, were that a thief had paid back stolen money, that a victim preferred not to prosecute and that a trial might not be worth the expense.

Educators Hear Cincinnati Mayor

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Mayor Charles P. Taft says he thinks groups that fail to support school improvement often "do not understand the democratic process."

Taft told a group of elementary school principals Monday night that the democratic system evolved from early religious groups before the American revolution, in which freedom of expression had to be tolerated.

"They could never be sure," he said, "but what God was speaking through the member who had the floor," and they wound up with a decision acceptable to everyone.

Taft addressed a general session at the annual conference of the National Education Assn.'s Department of Elementary School Principals. About 4,000 delegates are meeting here through Wednesday.

Glazed Tea Ring Proves Simple Refreshment

No time is lost in the kitchen on nights friends drop by for a quiet evening of entertainment if this freshly baked tea ring is ready in the bread box.

A honey and nut glaze adds attractiveness to the pastry and the enriched corn meal in the dough gives an interesting and a pleasant flavor.

To prepare the tea ring, use:

1 package or 1 cake compressed or dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
¾ cup scalded milk
⅓ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup raisins
3 to 3½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 egg, beaten
½ cup enriched corn meal

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. (Use warm water for dry yeast.) Pour scalded milk over sugar, shortening and salt: stir occasionally until shortening melts. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in raisins, 1 cup flour and the beaten egg. Add softened yeast and corn meal. Stir in enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about one hour.

Punch dough down; turn out on lightly floured board or canvas. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. Roll out dough to form a rectangle 10 by 18 inches. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixture. Roll dough lengthwise as for a jelly roll. Place on greased cooky sheet arranging dough in a ring.

With scissors, make cuts 2-3 of the way through the ring at 1-inch intervals. Turn each section on its side. Brush lightly with melted shortening; cover and let rise in a warm place until double in size, about 45 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 30 minutes.

For the filling, combine 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1-3 cup sugar and 1½ teaspoons cinnamon.

For the decoration, use:

3 tablespoons honey
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1-3 cup chopped nutmeats

Combine honey, butter and flour in saucepan; cook over low heat about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Drizzle over tea ring. Sprinkle chopped nutmeats over honey mixture. Serve warm or cold.

Hong Kong Beautiful, Exotic, Former County Woman Finds

Browsing in colorful shops, viewing scenery of almost unbelievable beauty, gazing in awe at what is said to be the world's most treasured collection of jade and ivory, and dining on exotic food in some of the world's most fabulous restaurants are a few of the exciting experiences of a former Marion resident who recently spent a fortnight in Hong Kong, Kowloon and the New Territories.

The traveler was Mrs. Fred Regnier, the former Miss Avis Lill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lill of near Marion, who with her husband, Capt. Regnier and their children are making their home in Ashiya, Japan, where the captain is stationed with a troop carrier squadron as the post exchange officer.

Flies From Tokyo

The thrill-packed tour began on leaving Tokyo by plane at midnight and arriving in Hong Kong eight hours later after flying around the airport for two hours due to low ceiling, Mrs. Regnier wrote her parents.

She described the scenery as "fabulous" and shops and stores laden with jade, ivory, brass, jewels, wood figures, all hand carved. People from all over the world are found in Hong Kong and in the shops and on the streets one hears many languages spoken.

Sees Rare Collection

One of the many highlights was a visit to the Thieves Market where shops are built on top of one another and the keepers live in them, sleeping on the sidewalks with only a tin roof for a cover. Here she dined at the Emporium where the menus are in Chinese. American money rates six dollars for one and the most expensive meals were to be had for $1.15 in American money.

In the Tiger Palm Garden, built at a cost of many millions of dollars by a wealthy Chinese man, she found idols, pictures of landscapes, animals, the Chinese version of hell and pagodas all in miniature. It was here she viewed the ivory and jade collection.

A sampan, (small boat on which natives live) took her to the Floating Garden, where she saw many types of fish, later going to Repulse Bay on the Hong Kong side, where she dined in a luxurous hotel overlooking the bay and where the menu included stuffed duck with the feathers on.

Tourists are easily spotted with their cameras over their shoulders and eyes "poppin'" at the beauty and unusual sights, she wrote.

En route home she landed at Taipei on Formosa.

Since going to Japan Mrs. Regnier has visited many places of interest including Tokyo, Yokohoma, Kamakusa, Kioto, Nagoya and interesting cities on the island of Khyshu where the family resides.

Capt. Regnier has been stationed with the Air Force in Japan for the last three years and was joined by his family two and one-half years ago. His tour of duty will end in August this year and they will return to this country. His next assignment will be in the European theater. The Regnier's have four children ranging in age from 4 to 10 years.

57 Flee Fire

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed a three-story apartment house Monday in Mitiwanga, 10 miles east of here, leaving 57 persons homeless. The Sandusky Red Cross Chapter helped them find temporary housing. Firemen said origin of the blaze was not definitely determined, but that it might have been caused by an oil burner.

Lloyd W. Moats, owner of the building, said it would cost $110,000 to replace the 50 - year - old frame structure.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Thomas B. Cromwell, former sports editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer and founder of the Blood-Horse Magazine, died Monday at the age of 86.

Lensman Turns Up Familiar Face In Press Interview

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The day's question for the inquiring reporter-photographer was whether or not the city has enough policemen to cope with local crime.

"Every time you look around," said one man, "there's a cop sitting in a squad car or on a motorcycle or in a restaurant. It seems to me there's too many policemen."

Police thought his picture in the paper looked familiar. It was.

Records showed that the name he used was an alias and that, since 1942, he had been arrested twice for assault, twice for being AWOL from the Army, twice for auto theft, once for breaking and entering and once for robbery.

New System for Division of Tourney Receipts in State Studied by OHSAA

Board of Control To Act On Coaches' Plea in April

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A move is in the works to return to Ohio's high schools a greater share of tournament basketball receipts.

Scholastic cage coaches, at a meeting last week in connection with the state tournament, urged that competing teams in regional and state meets get larger bonuses, and Commissioner H. W. Emsilwer said today the suggestion was "not received with disfavor by this office."

"Personally, I feel there is some justification for giving the schools more of the tournament receipts," Emswiler said. "But action on such a matter is up to the board of control. I know the subject, already discussed by the state board, will be given further consideration at the April meeting. Action may be taken at that time."

Receipts Climb Steadily

The Ohio High School Athletic Association's "take" from tournaments has been growing steadily the last few years.

In 1951 the association received $62,633.15 as its share of receipts from the county - through - state playoffs, and for the five years ending with the 1951 season the total was $289,533.83.

But for the last five years, and not counting last weekend's state meet at St. John Arena or the qualifying events leading to it—tops in alltime attendance — the association's share was $593,146.28. That's more than twice the amount taken by the association the previous five years.

The coaches suggested that 20 per cent of the net receipts at regional and state tournaments be divided among the competing teams, with those eliminated in the first round receiving one share and the finalists two shares.

Emswiler said he and his staff had discussed several methods of returning some of the receipts to the schools, but again insisted the final plan would be up to the state board of control, made up of principals and superintendents from all parts of the state.

"I'm convinced that at least $75,000 could be returned to the schools as of now," Emswiler said. "That would figure out to $71.67 for each school in the state. We've discussed, informally, a plan under which all schools would receive at least $25, with larger amounts going to schools based on their enrollment and how far they advanced in the tournaments.

Backlog Available

"We have hesitated, up to now, to discuss returning funds to the schools because of our desire to build up a backlog fund capable of seeing us through a poor year. We have that backlog now, and if the state board so votes, we can make a refund."

The last audit of association funds was made as of Aug. 31, 1956, and it showed operating funds of $83,171.06, reserve fund certificates of deposit $90,000, U.S. savings Bonds $110,000, and insurance fund $57,000.

Last year the association paid $37,603.59 for furnishing and completing purchase of the new headquarters building, boosting the 12-month expenditures to $158,148.98. Receipts for the 12 months were $158,313.89, leaving a surplus of $164.91 for the year.

After realizing $62,633.15 as its share of basketball receipts in 1951, the association hiked its take to $105,738 in 1952; $111,080 in 1953; $120,976 in 1954; $126,283 in 1955, and $135,057 a year ago. In addition, during the 12 months prior to Aug. 31, the association picked up an additional $23,246 on such things as official fees, interest on deposits, sale of books, subscriptions, films and sundry equipment, and from baseball, cross country, track and wrestling meets.

DAD GETS THE WORD. Looks as if little Gay Vernon, 4, is telling her dad, Boston Red Sox first baseman Mickey Vernon, she expects him to have another good year. Completing the family picture is Mickey's wife, Elizabeth. Vernon, who will be 39 in April, batted .310 for the Boston club last season. He is a veteran of 16 years American League play with the Washington, Cleveland and Boston clubs. The Vernons are from Wallingford, Pa.

McCormick Gives Opinion

Present Redleg Club Better Than 1940, Coach Insists

By The Associated Press

Frank McCormick, holder of the National League's first base fielding record of 1,337 chances without an error, believes the Cincinnati Redlegs are better than the team that won the World Series from Detroit in 1940.

McCormick is one of the few former players in a position to compare the present Redlegs with the world champions of 17 years ago. He played on the 1940 team. In fact he led the hitters in the Series that year with .400. Last season he returned to Cincinnati as first base coach after managing in the minors and scouting.

"I AM NOT one to compare players," began McCormick, "but Johnny Temple reminds me so much of Lonnie Frey and both play a fine second base. I would say Joe Nuxhall compares with Johnny Vander Meer with Joe getting the edge because of better control.

"Ival Goodman was much like Wally Post in that both were sound ball players. Post's arm is stronger but Goodman was more accurate with his throws.

"Looking at the overall picture I believe the present day ball club far overshadows the 1940 team except for pitching."

The 1940 Redlegs, who finished 12 games ahead of Brooklyn, were led by Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer with 22 and 20 victories, respectively. Then came Gene Thompson with 16 and Jim Turner with 14 triumphs. Vander Meer had arm trouble that year and won only three games. Of the 1956 team, Brooks Lawrence won 19 and Nuxhall took 13.

McCORMICK played 138 games without an error from Sept. 26, 1945 to Sept. 23, 1946, a NL record which still stands. His fielding average for 1946 with the Phillies was .9992, still a league record.

He made his lone error that season when he failed to come up with a bare-handed try on an underhand throw by Emil Verban. But things have a way of evening up. In mid-season, McCormick made a low throw to pitcher Schoolboy Rowe who was covering first base. The scorer gave the error to Rowe.

FRANK McCORMICK
Veteran Praises Redlegs

McCormick broke in to stay in the majors in 1938 and hit .327 as a rookie with the Redlegs. The next year he hit .332 and led the league in runs batted in with 128. Four times he led the league in fielding. He played in six All-Star games. His lifetime average for 1,534 games is .299.

In the mid-40s he developed back trouble and finished with the 1948 Boston Braves.

"I was measured for a corset," says McCormick. "It was like a steel brace. I never played with it on because I couldn't bend, so I called it a career at 35 after 11 seasons."

Frank, who managed Quebec in 1949, Lima, Ohio in 1950 and Bradford, Pa., in the Pony League in 1951, figures to be around for a spell. He proved popular as a coach in his first season last year and recently signed a two-year contract.

Temple University's basketball and gymnastic team members all are Philadelphia natives.

Wynn Faces Long Layoff, May Miss Opening Game

TUCSON, Ariz., (AP) — Early Wynn, who won 20 games for the Cleveland Indians last year, is barely able to walk because of inflamed tendons of the right hip and it is doubtful whether he will be ready to pitch when the season opens April 16.

"If he doesn't show any improvement in a day or two, we may send him to Cleveland," manager Kerby Farrell said. "I'd like somebody to look him over at the Cleveland Clinic."

Wynn, who has pitched only six innings this spring, was injured March 17 while warming up for a three-inning assignment against the New York Giants. The injury has put his training program back to the point where he will have to start all over again when he is able to resume workouts.

Lead in Doubles

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Andy Sinay and Rank Chismar of Canton, Ohio, top the doubles standings with 1,329 in the American Bowling Congress tournament here.

Northwestern In Search for Court Mentor

EVANSTON, Ill., (AP) — Northwestern University was looking for a new basketball coach today with the help of Waldo Fisher who resigned Monday to become assistant athletic director.

Athletic Director Stu Holcomb announced the resignation and said Fisher's first job in his new position will be to aid in the selection of a new basketball coach.

Northwestern finished last for the second straight year in the Big Ten this season with a 2-12 record. The Wildcats had a 7-16 mark for the season.

Holcomb said "We will make a thorough study before selecting a new coach. We feel there are a number of capable coaches available and we will not make a choice until we have surveyed all candidates."

Fisher, who served as an assistant basketball and football coach since his graduation from the university in 1923, took over as head basketball coach in 1952 following the resignation of the late Harold Olson because of ill health.

Under Fisher, a native of Fargo, N. D., Northwestern's best season was in 1954-55 when the Wildcats finished in the first division of the Western Conference with a 7 - 7 mark and had an overall record of 12-10.

Redlegs' Pilot Says Club Has Chance at Flag

By JOE REICHLER

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) —"We have to finish third. We should finish second. And we may finish first."

Birdie Tebbetts, Cincinnati's manager-of-the-year for 1956, said: "We've got the power. Nobody doubts that. But you've got to be realistic. Pitching is still the big thing in baseball. And in our league Milwaukee and Brooklyn have the pitching, deep strong. I'm not complaining about mine, however. We've got what I call sufficient sameness in our 10-man staff. It suits me, but we don't have a fellow like Don Newcombe or Warren Spahn.

Fourth of a Series

"I'll make a prediction right now. No more than 90 games should win the pennant in our league. That's because the league hasn't had so many clubs that could beat the top clubs for many years. There are no weak sisters in the league. The club that can find a patsy will win.

"Everyone talks about our hitting," Tebbetts said. "They are blinded by our home run power. But we don't have a sustained attack."

"Our power is predominantly lefthanded. It's obvious what's in store for us. Wally Post and Frank Robinson are our only righthanded power hitters. We're going to be lefthanded to death."

The Redlegs' big need, even more than pitching help, is a solid hitting third baseman. The rest of the infield is set, unless Ted Kluszewski fails to round into form. In that case, George Crowe, the hottest hitter in the Redleg camp, will open the season at first base.

There's no finer keystone combination than Johnny Temple at second and Roy McMillan at shortstop. Ed Bailey and Smokey Burgess, a pair of .300 hitters, give the Redlegs the strongest catching in the league. Tebbetts has no worries in the outfield either with Gus Bell in center, Robinson in left and Post in right.

Tebbetts plans to carry a 10-man pitching staff. Southpaw Joe Nuxhall (13-11) and righthanders Hal Jeffcoat (8-2), Brooks Lawrence (19-10), Johnny Klippstein (12-11), Warren Hacker (3-13) and Art Fowler (11-11) form the big six.

Detroit Skater Nails Scoring Crown in NHL

MONTREAL (AP) — Gordie Howe, Detroit's flashy forward, won his fifth National Hockey League scoring championship and teammate Ted Lindsay, who finished second, set a record for most points by a left winger.

Official league records disclosed today that Howe compiled 89 points on 44 goals and 45 assists. His goal output also topped the league. Lindsay, whose 55 assists were high, wound up with 85 points. Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers was fourth with 77 and Chicago's Ed Litzenberger fifth with 64.

Jacques (The Snake) Plante of Montreal won the Vezina Trophy for the second straight season. The award is given to the goalie whose team is charged with the least allowed goals. The Canadiens yielded 155 goals for an average of 2.21. Detroit and its net-minder, Glenn Hall were runners-up with 157 and a 2.24 average.

Esposito Seeks Utility Duty With White Sox

TAMPA, Fla., (AP) — Sammy Esposito, a flop at third base for the Chicago White Sox last year, is making a strong bid to remain as the team's No. 1 utility infielder.

Esposito has been filling in for injured shortstop Luis Aparicio and he's been doing an excellent job. Aside from his timely hitting including three safeties against Cincinnati Sunday, Esposito has sparkled in the field.

Aparicio is due back soon but it doesn't look like Esposito will get another shot at third base where Bubba Phillips has been stationed. Phillips, a converted outfielder, looks like a cinch to open the season at third.

Collins Takes Over 4th Spot in Yankee Order

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP) — With Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra sidelined with injuries, the Yankees had a new cleanup man in Casey Stengel's ever-changing lineup against the Dodgers Monday. Outfielder - first baseman Joe Collins batted fourth.

Scheffing Ready To Cut His Roster to 28 Players

MESA, Ariz., (AP) — The Chicago Cubs have sharpened their axe and Manager Bob Scheffing wants to trim the roster to 28 by April 1.

That means the Cubs will have to cut nine players by next Monday.

Meanwhile, the status of veteran first baseman Dee Fondy remains questionable. Walt Moryn and Bob Speake have been taking turns at first with little or no mention of Fondy.

Scheffing says he wants Moryn to make the grade at first and use Speake in the outfield because he wants both of them in the lineup.

Redlegs' Ace Expecting Improvement by Cards

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP) — A manager and a ballplayer, both rivals, said Monday the St. Louis Cardinals should be a greatly improved baseball team this season.

Birdie Tebbetts, manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, and Johnny Temple, Redlegs second baseman, based their comments on pitching and the acquisition of Del Ennis from Philadelphia.

"Ennis is good for 100 RBI's or so," Temple analyzed, "and so are Stan Musial and Ken Boyer. No, the Cardinals don't need much else to win the pennant."

"But don't overlook us," Temple added quickly.

Tebbetts said he was impressed by Cardinal pitchers, especially young Tom Cheney.

Bob Thompson Figures In Milwaukee Planning

BRADENTON, Fla., (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves said Monday Bobby Thomson will continue to get equal billing with Wes Covington at left field throughout the exhibition schedule.

"Thomson has looked good at the plate," said Haney.

Hawks Bump Minneapolis In Disputed Overtime Fray

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A madcap double overtime victory that wasn't officially sealed until 30 minutes after the final buzzer cleared the way today for the St. Louis Hawks maiden appearance in the National Basketball Assn. playoff finals.

Amid conflicting decisions by the referees and protests lodged by both coaches, St. Louis whipped the Minneapolis Lakers, 143-135 Monday night, to complete a three-game sweep of the teams' best of five western division finals.

From a post - game huddle involving rival coaches, referees Arnie Heft and Norm Drucker, league president Maurice Podoloff and Jocko Collins, superintendent of NBA officials, emerged a decision to disallow Laker coach Johnny Kundla's protest.

Will Meet Boston

The upshot is that St. Louis tangles with Boston's eastern division champions Saturday at Boston in the opening game of a best of seven championship playoff.

Blurred in the haggling was the great pressure - playing of St. Louis' Bob Pettit and Slater Martin, and the 42-point production of Minneapolis' Bob Leonard.

With Minneapolis leading 114-112 and eight seconds left, Leonard passed in out of bounds to Charley Mencel. Drucker admitted afterward he became confused when Mencel caught the pass at the center line.

Drucker mistakenly ruled that Mencel could not go into the back court. He blew his whistle and awarded the ball to St. Louis.

Heft overruled him and gave the ball back to Minneapolis. Hannum delayed the game 10 minutes with his objections and finally made an official protest.

The Lakers subsequently lost the ball and Pettit pitched one in to tie the score with two seconds to go.

Here Kundla got into the scramble. When Mencel took the disputed pass from Leonard, the timekeeper ticked off three seconds while Mencel was ball-handling.

Block Set Back

Drucker ruled, however, that the three seconds was "dead time" because he had made an error in interpretation. As a result he had the time set back to eight seconds.

The Lakers argued that Pettit's basket, coming with two seconds left, was made in time which actually should have been already charged off.

Leonard saved the Lakers with two free throws in the last two seconds of the first overtime, which ended 131-131, but Pettit, Martin and Cliff Hagan made easy work of the second session. Pettit finished with 35 points.

Stanley Cup Play Will Open Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — The team Jack Adams calls the weakest championship club in his 30 years in Detroit hockey tangles with its most stubborn opponent tonight as the Red Wings open the Stanley Cup series against the Boston Bruins.

The Bruins, with their best club in years, defeated the title-winning Red Wings seven times during the regular season. The Wings were able to win only four times, with three games ending in ties.

The Detroit club won its 12th National Hockey League title because it could hammer away at the lower clubs with remarkable success. The Wings lost the season series both to Montreal and Boston, the teams that finished second and third respectively.

"We can't play Toronto and Chicago in the Stanley Cup," general manager Adams reminded his club Monday as it departed for the Red Wings rest camp in Toledo to await tonight's opener. "You gotta beat the best of 'em now." The Wings were to return to Olympia Stadium shortly before game time.

Meanwhile the New York Rangers take a healthy, well rested, but decidedly underdog, team into tonight's opening playoff game against the Montreal Canadiens in Madison Square Garden.

Western Cage Stars in Win Against East

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Unimpressed by their opponents' big names, the West All-Stars buzzed to a 64-60 triumph over the East Monday night in the annual Shriners' East-West benefit basketball game.

Little Gary Thompson, All - America from Iowa State, outscored the shining shooters of the East and did the quarterback chores for the West masterfully.

Thompson hit 16 points and was named the game's outstanding player. Southern Methodist's Jimbo Krebs hauled in 15 rebounds for the West and also outplayed his opponent, Charley Tyra of Louisville University, in all other departments.

Tebbetts Sees Better Hurling For Cincinnati

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati's Redlegs haven't been able to trade for the front-line pitcher they want, but Manager Birdie Tebbetts said Monday. "And I'm confident our pitching is going to be considerably better this year."

Tebbetts didn't mention the other Redleg departments, except the vacant third base job where he said it's still too early to decide between Don Hoak or Alex Grammas.

Redlegs brass earlier this month tried to trade seven players to the Brooklyn Dodgers for ace hurler Don Newcombe, but the Dodgers shrugged off the offer.

Green Camp Hoopsters Nail Tournament Win

Gulliford Hardware of Green Camp recorded a 63-50 verdict over Mount Victory in its opening test in a Mount Victory invitational cage tournament Monday night.

The Marion County entry spurted into an 18-14 edge in the first quarter but saw its lead dwindle to 29-28 at the halftime intermission. The winners regained a three-point edge in the third stanza, leading 45-42 before clinching the win with a last quarter scoring burst.

Jim Riley pumped in 17 points to lead the winning attack while Merl Hillborn and Bob Weston each collected 16. Parsel scored 11 to pace the losers.

The Green Camp squad will resume action Wednesday night, meeting the winner of the Byhalia-Logan Coffee Shop battle.

Barbara McIntire Wins Title In Women's Golf Tournament

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — When Barbara McIntire finished her four rounds in the Augusta titleholders golf tournament last week she had broken 80 only once and was a very discouraged young lady.

Today she flashed a brilliant smile as she looked back on a way of steadily improved play that was climaxed with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, in Monday's 18-hole finals of the North and South Amateur.

When Barbara, North - South medalist last year and runnerup in the National Open for women, finished her titleholders bid with a ragged 86 she was at a low ebb.

The Iowa housewife suddenly came to life with an eagle three on the 403-yard 14th. She holed an eight iron shot from the rough and, with Barbara still shaken by the shot, Mrs. Johnstone won the short 15th with a par to trail by only two holes with three to play.

Barbara put the brakes on the rally with two fine shots on the long 16th, chipped to about seven feet of the hole and dropped her putt for a birdie four that gave her the hole and the match.

City's Bowling Tourney Near Home Stretch

With action in the men's annual Marion City Bowling Tournament heading into the home stretch, high individual and team scores are becoming more significant The tourney will end the weekend of April 14, according to Ed Cheney, secretary of the Marion Bowling Association.

In team scoring, Red Top Beer holds a 34-pin lead over the CIO team. Red Top tops the first five contenders with a point total of 2979, while CIO has a 1945-pin score. The Indians still hold down third place with 2927 pins, while Henry Boat is in fourth by virtue of a 2920 tally. Standard Oil is still in the fifth spot with a 2917.

There have been several changes in the doubles leaders, though not in the first place spot, where Dick Detwiler and Roy Shirk hold sway on the strength of a 1317 count. D. Froelich and H. Miller have climbed into the second place berth with a score of 1280, while the team of C. Kraner and H. Metzger are in third place with 1275 pins. In fourth and fifth places respectively are the teams of B. Botts-C. McCullough and C. Reid-R. Jones, with tallies of 1262, 1256.

In the singles competition, Robert Rinnert, after leading most of the tourney thus far, slipped over the weekend to third place, while Ed Messenger, a newcomer to the top five, rolled his way to the top spot with a 705-pin score. Ken Dillinger is in second place with a 701 tally, while Rinnert hangs on to third with 700 pins. J. Young is in fourth with a 691 score and P. Fox is fifth with a 687.

Thus far, George Barkley has turned in the high single game, a 274. Earl Cottrill is pacing the field in the Class A. all - events competition with 1709, while Don McCulley leads all comers in the Class B all-events action with 1644 pins.

Ohio Edison's Sales, Profits Increase in '56

Earnings Up by 6.9 Per Cent, President Of Company Reports

Sales of electricity in kilowatt-hours by the Ohio Edison System in 1956 increased 4.4 per cent over 1955, President Walter H. Sammis advised stockholders in his annual report mailed this week.

The report covers the combined operations of Ohio Edison and its subsidiary, Pennsylvania Power Co.

Operating revenue of the system for the year was $129,303,684, a gain of 4.9 per cent over 1955.

Operating expenses amounted to $66,061,386, up 6.2 per cent over the preceding 12 months.

Net Income Rises

Consolidated net income after preferred stock dividends totaled $22,017,365, compared with $20,599,235 for the previous year, an increase of 6.9 per cent.

The Edison System during 1956 operated against a background of an expanding economy and favorable business conditions, according to Mr. Sammis. The unprecedented growth in industrial plant and equipment expenditures that featured the area in 1955 continued during 1956 with the addition of several substantial new industrial plants, large expansions of existing plants, and announcements of other additions and expansions to be completed in 1957 and 1958.

Such major projects, each estimated to require an outlay of $1,000,000 or more, have been announced for 41 locations in the area served by the Edison System in the two-year period, 1955-1956. They call for total expenditures of approximately $595,000,000 and employment of more than 36,000 people.

The high level of productivity of the area's many diversified industries was reflected by a new record in kilowatt-hour sales of electricity to the system's industrial customers. Sales to this class were up 6.9 per cent over 1955, while sales to residential customers increased 9.9 per cent, and sales to stores and other commercial establishments increased 8.9 per cent.

For the 12 months' period, the system's residential customers paid an average price of 2.61 cents per kilowatt-hour for electricity as compared with 2.65 cents in 1955.

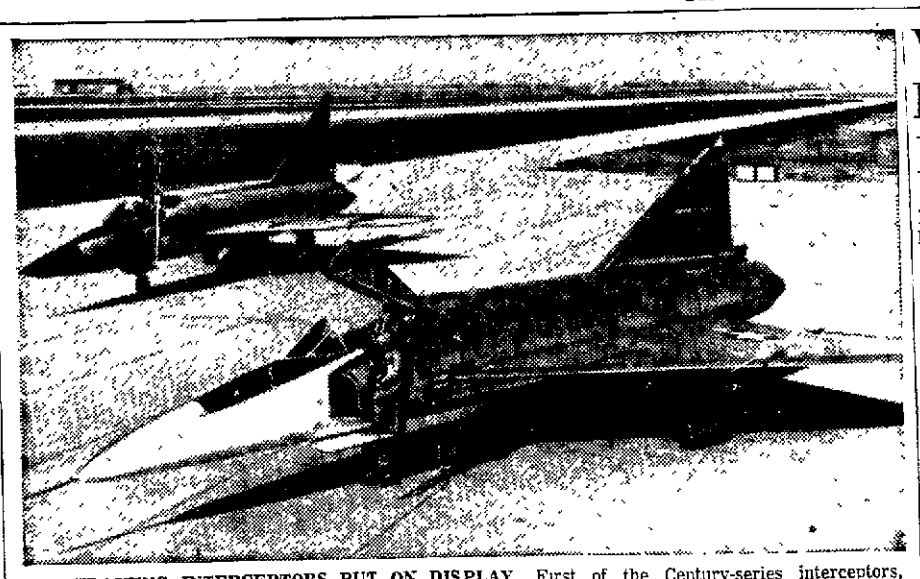
Total provision for taxes amounted to $34,077,582, and was equivalent to 26.4 cents of each dollar of operating revenue.

Construction Projects

Among the major construction projects under way during the year were a 90,000-kilowatt addition to Ohio Edison's Edgewater power plant at Lorain, expected to be in operation in the summer of 1957, and a 90,000-kilowatt addition to Pennsylvania Power's New Castle plant, scheduled for completion in 1958. Ground was also broken last May for a new power plant for Ohio Edison Co. at Stratton, O., on the Ohio River. Four units with a total generating capacity of 680,000 kilowatts are planned for this plant, with the first unit expected to go into service in 1958, and the fourth in 1961.

In his report Mr. Sammis cited "a further demonstration of the competence and willingness of the nation's investor - owned electric light and power companies to meet the country's future requirements for electricity" by their activity in the field of nuclear energy.

On Feb. 15, 1957, Ohio Edison and Pennsylvania Power, together with 10 other electric companies operating in the Ohio Valley and contiguous areas formed a group which is now formulating plans to undertake a program of nuclear research and development which, it is believed, will represent a significant advance in the technology and economics of utilizing nuclear fuel to produce commercial electric power.



CONTRASTING INTERCEPTORS PUT ON DISPLAY. First of the Century-series interceptors, which will be put on display at the U. S. Air Force Central Museum at Dayton, Ohio, is the YF-102, shown in foreground at San Diego, Calif. In background is the latest supersonic interceptor, the F-102A. The YF-102 differs from the other craft in that it has a longer experimental nose, smaller tail, different wing fences and no pinched waist.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No. 2 red wheat, unchanged to one cent lower, 2.00-2 03; No. 2 yellow ear corn, mostly unchanged to one cent lower, 1.68-1.76 per 100 lbs or 1.18-1.23 er bu; No. 2 oats, mostly unchanged, .68-.72; No. 1 yellow soybeans, unchanged to one cent higher, 2.19-2.22.

The U. S. Army Air Force station at Roslyn, Long Island, is one of the smallest air force bases in the world, with only 500 personnel. Yet there have been 68 weddings there since 1952, 42 of them involving airmen and WAF couples who met on the post.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices drifted to the downside in light trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues fell from fractions to around a point.

Little pressure from either the buying or selling end was apparent. A few individual stocks made modest gains.

Declines were sharpest in the metals division, continuing the trend of Monday on the news of softer copper prices.

Both Anaconda and Kennecott Copper lost a point or so.

Jones & Laughlin gained only a fraction on the company's prediction of capacity operations in the first quarter and of a larger order backlog. Youngstown was up about a point but U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel were all easier. Lukens Steel was down a point.

U. S. Government bonds improved.

Seeks New Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—Denver Powell, 46, convicted of first degree murder in a 1949 holdup-slaying, has filed for a new trial.

Powell's court-appointed attorneys filed the move Monday for the El Centro, Calif., man, asserting the verdict was against the evidence.

Powell was convicted Friday in the robbery killing of delicatessen operator John Schreck. The jury recommended mercy, under which a life term is mandatory.

Wolfson, AM Head Agree on Future Plans

DETROIT—Agreement between Louis E. Wolfson, largest stockholder in the American Motors Corp., and George Romney, company president, on policies of the company is reflected in statements issued by the two men.

After a two-day conference between the two men in Miami, Fla., Romney declared: "I brought Mr. Wolfson up to date on our plans. Mr. Wolfson, in turn laid before me a number of suggestions. There was no difference of opinion between myself and Mr. Wolfson on the objectives of the company and our basic approach."

He said these objectives are that the company will continue its automotive, appliance and defense programs and add to them a new program of expansion.

When Wolfson, head of Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp., began buying American Motors stock, there was some speculation that he would urge dropping of the automobile line and concentrating on the appliance business

Statements by the two men, however, put an end to such speculation.

Romney said it is the company's intention to strengthen and expand the Kelvinator appliance business by the addition of new products through our own research and development and by acquisitions.

"The new 1958 Rambler and new 1958 senior car models will be introduced during the normal new model introduction period next fall. The Nash and Hudson cars are continuing and our 1958 senior models are already largely tooled. The 1958 program will be the first one completely planned, styled, engineered and tooled since the formation of American Motors in the spring of 1954," he declared.

In his statement, Wolfson said: "My confidence in American Motors is most practically demonstrated by the fact that my family and I have added to our holdings of 350,000 shares and will continue to add to these holdings. Based on Mr. Romney's confidence that American Motors will be operating profitably in 1958, my stock and that of my family will be voted for Mr. Romney at the next annual meeting of stockholders in February."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1-A—CARD OF THANKS

WE WISH to express our sincere thanks to all our friends and relatives for their cards and flowers during the death of our wife and mother, Mary E. Hoffman. We also wish to thank the pallbearers, Schaffner - Denzer Funeral Home, Mrs. Robert Dunlap, and especially Rev. Kissel for his comforting words during our recent sorrow.
Walter Hoffman
Children.

1-B—IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORY of Priscilla Ann Cook, who passed away March 26, 1955.
We are sad within our memory,
Lonely are our hearts today.
For the one we loved so dearly,
Has forever been called away.
We think of her in silence,
No eye can see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.
Mommie, Daddy, Brothers and Sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our husband and father, Clyde O. Dickason, who passed away one year ago today.
In our hearts fond memories are kept,
Of one whom we loved and will never forget.
Sadly missed by wife Sarepta, children and grandchildren.

Your Car Won't Let You DOWN If You Keep It UP!

You may be having minor trouble with several parts of your car, but don't consider them serious enough to require repairs.
You aren't saving any money when you do this — you are merely allowing your troubles to "pile up". The final results will be large repair bills that could have been eliminated had they been stopped in the beginning.

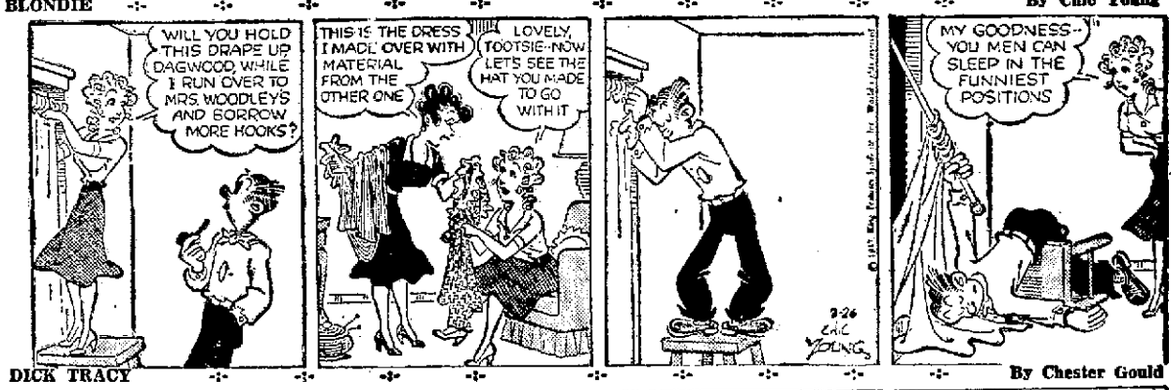
THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

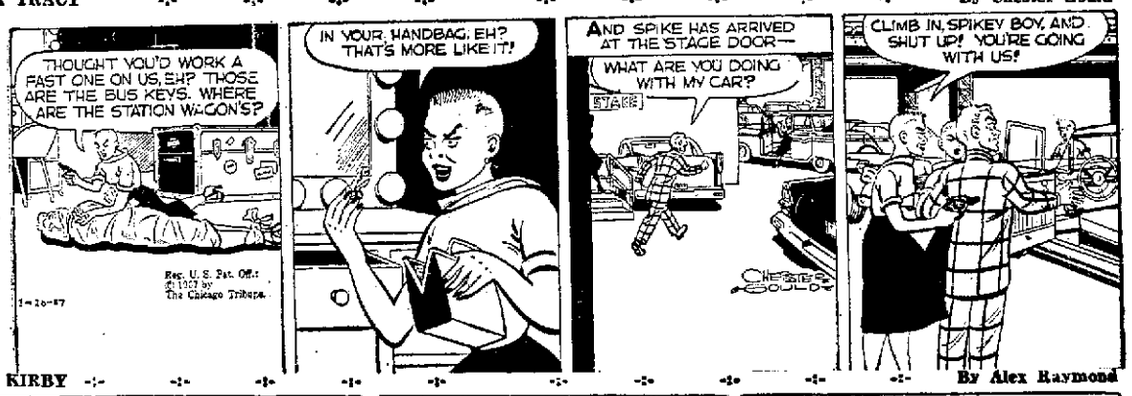
LOOKS LIKE MAGGI MELLET—AGENT, MIGHT HAVE TO CLOSE SHOP, EVE. GRADY WAS NOT ONLY OUR BEST CLIENT—
HE WAS THE SNARE FOR OTHER AUTHORS. OH, EVE— ALL I WAS DOING WAS TRYING TO HELP HIM WRITE HIS BOOK!
I KNOW, I KNOW!
LATER...
AND THAT MEANS SHE'LL JUST PROBABLY HAVE TO GO OUT OF BUSINESS, STEVE—YOU KNOW A LOT ABOUT THESE THINGS. IS THERE ANYTHING WE CAN DO?
AH—THE PIVOTAL QUESTION, CHILD. YES—HAPPENS THERE IS!

BLONDIE By Chic Young



WILL YOU HOLD THIS DRAPE UP DAGWOOD, WHILE I RUN OVER TO MRS WOODLEY'S AND BORROW MORE HOOKS?
THIS IS THE DRESS I MADE OVER WITH MATERIAL FROM THE OTHER ONE
LOVELY, TOOTSIE—NOW LET'S SEE THE HAT YOU MADE TO GO WITH IT
MY GOODNESS— YOU MEN CAN SLEEP IN THE FUNNIEST POSITIONS

DICK TRACY By Chester Gould



THOUGHT YOU'D WORK A FAST ONE ON US, EH? THOSE ARE THE BUS KEYS. WHERE ARE THE STATION WAGON'S?
IN YOUR HANDBAG, EH? THAT'S MORE LIKE IT!
AND SPIKE HAS ARRIVED AT THE STAGE DOOR—
WHAT ARE YOU DOING WITH MY CAR?
CLIMB IN, SPIKEY BOY, AND SHUT UP! YOU'RE GOING WITH US!

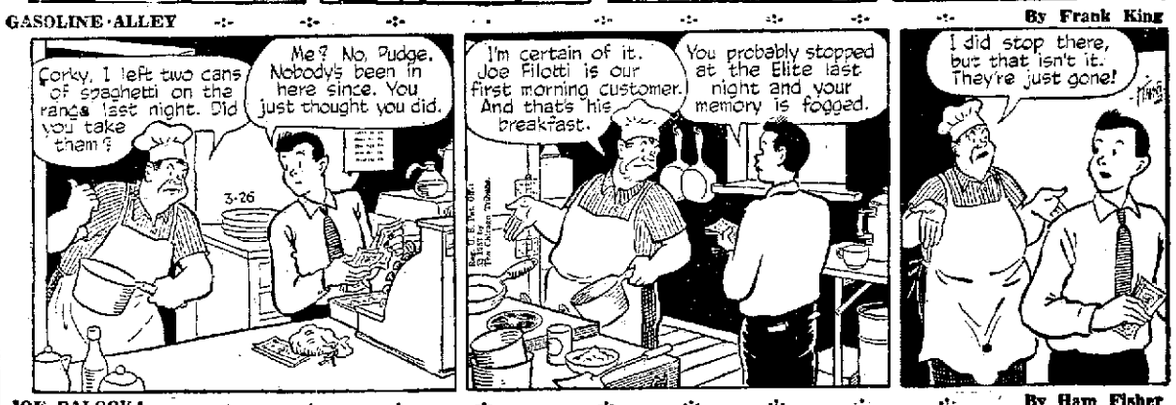
RIP KIRBY By Alex Raymond

THE LETTERS USED TO FORM THIS EXTORTION NOTE WERE CUT OUT WITH SCISSORS THAT HAD VERY SHORT, CURVED BLADES, DESMOND.
WHICH SIGNIFIES WHAT, SIR?
SOMEONE SNIPPED THEM WITH MANICURE SCISSORS. DOESN'T THAT STRIKE YOU AS A STRANGE TOOL FOR A DESPERADO?
PERHAPS THE EXTORTIONIST WORKS IN A BARBERSHOP!
WHAT'S MORE, PAPER AND ENVELOPE ARE A VERY FINE GRADE — SUCH AS YOU MIGHT FIND IN A WEALTHY HOME...
A RICH MANICURIST?

ARCHIE By Montana

POP! I HAVE A SURPRISE FOR YOU! I GOT A GRADE "A"....
ARCHIE! THAT'S WONDERFUL!
MOM SAID YOU'D...
CERTAINLY, MY BOY! HERE'S AN EXTRA ALLOWANCE!
MARY DID YOU HEAR? ARCHIE GOT A GRADE "A"!
YES, I TOLD HIM TO...
...JUST FOR YOU!

GASOLINE ALLEY By Frank King



Corky, I left two cans of spaghetti on the range last night. Did you take them?
Me? No, Pudge. Nobody's been in here since. You just thought you did.
I'm certain of it. Joe Filotti is our first morning customer. And that's his breakfast.
You probably stopped at the Elite last night and your memory is fogged.
I did stop there, but that isn't it. They're just gone!

JOE PALOOKA By Ham Fisher

I DID MY BEST, KNOBBY... MOTTIN'S GOT EVERYTHING!
YOU DID EXACTLY WHAT I ASKED YA, STEVIE — THANKS! WE STILL GOT A S-SL'M CHANCE... HERE COMES TH' V-VERDICT!!
STEVE PALOOKA
TH' WINNER BY A DECISION... AND STILL TH' MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPION... STEVE PALOOKA!
C-CONGRATULATIONS, CHAMP... I WAS SURE I H-HAD IT!!
YOU WERE WONDERFUL, VINCE... I...
OH, CHAMP... THAT WAS THE GREATEST FIGHT IN YEARS... THE WORLD IS WAITING TO HEAR YOUR COMMENT

TERRY AND THE PIRATES By George Wunder

CURSE YOU! LET ME GO!
EYEEE! SHE IS CRAZED WITH FEAR!
OF COURSE! DID NOT HER SISTER MEET DEATH AT THE HANDS OF ONE OF THOSE SAME BLUE COATS?
BACK, FOREIGN DOGS! LEAVE OUR WOMEN ALONE.
WAIT, MAJOR LOON. WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE I WILL DO!

On Stand in London Murder Trial

Scotland Yard Expert Testifies Against Doctor

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard's dapper ace, Detective Supt. Herbert Hannam, testified today that Dr. John Bodkin Adams was "very, very shaken indeed" when informed he was being charged with the drug murder of one of his patients.

Geoffrey Lawrence, the chief defense attorney, began cross-examining the veteran sleuth.

Dr. Adams, 58-year-old society physician, is charged with drugging an 81-year-old widow, Mrs. Edith Morrell, to death in 1950 in order to benefit from her will. She left him an oaken chest of silver and her son gave the doctor her Rolls Royce automobile.

'Happener To Be' Passing

The detective said he just "happened to be passing" the doctor's mansion one evening during the investigation of the case when he first talked to the physician about Mrs. Morrell.

"Easing the passing of a dying person isn't all that wicked," Hannam quoted Adams as saying. "She wanted to die. That can't be murder. It is impossible to accuse a doctor."

Lawrence emphasized that testimony given by the window's lawyer showed she once cut the doctor out of her will. He charged the detective knew that when he was questioning the doctor about signing a certificate for cremation of the body in which Adams said so far as he knew he was not a beneficiary.

'Could Have Asked'

"You could have asked him whether he knew Mrs. Morrell had cut him out of her will, but you did not ask any of those things?" pressed Lawrence.

"I could have done," Hannam replied cooly.

Lawrence then asked:

"These matters I have just raised are not things that Dr. Adams said at all, but a reflection of things you were saying and putting to him and to which he was making no reply?"

"That is quite untrue," the detective responded. "These were his actual words and I have recorded them accurately."

The hawk-faced, 48-year-old detective said when he went to arrest the doctor and told him he was being charged with murder, "Dr. Adams replied, 'Murder?' Then paused for a few seconds and said, 'Murder, can you prove it was murder?' "

Hannam testified the doctor also said, "I did not think you could prove murder. — she was dying in any event."

Railroads' Move For Rate Hike Hit By Farm Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm groups are making a fight against a petition of the nation's railroads for additional increases in freight rates on farm products and farm production supplies.

All the major farm organizations have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission, transportation regulating agency, to turn down the petition. Secretary of Agriculture Benson joined them Monday. Increases of 22 per cent in the eastern and western parts of the country and 15 per cent in the southern have been requested.

Benson, in a statement submitted to the ICC, said freight rates on crops and related farm products have increased 83 per cent and on animals and animal products 104 per cent since 1946. But prices received by farmers, he said, are 4 per cent lower.

Death Claims Former Power in Tammany Hall

LONG BEACH, N.Y. (AP)—James J. (Jimmy) Hines, 80, onetime power in Manhattan's Tammany Hall who went to prison in 1940, died in Long Beach Memorial Hospital today of a kidney ailment.

Hines had been in the hospital since March 12.

The veteran political leader broke with Tammany to support Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in 1932. Tammany had been solid for Al Smith.

Hines later became dispenser of federal patronage for Manhattan.

But in 1939 Hines was convicted on charges of conspiring to protect policy rackets in the city. He served 3 years and 11 months in Sing Sing Prison.
